THIRD EDITION.

5:30 O'CLOCK A. M.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

While we have every hope that the final outcome of the struggle in Ohio and Indiana, yesterday, will be found to be in favor of the cause of intelligence, progress, sincerity, patriotism and true reform—in other words in favor of the Republican party—the returns received from those States up to the hour of going to press are too fragmentary and incomplete to enable us to express a confident opinion as to the result. It is conceded on all sides that should both Ohio and Indiana have gone Republican, the Presidential election will be virtually settled in favor of Governor HAYES. So, too, even if Ohio alone shall have gone Republican, and Indiana Democratic, by small majorities, the same result will be practically reached, although the struggle will doubtless be intensified to the end of the campaign. It will not be forgotten that Indiana went Democratic in the State election of 1872, and Republican by a very large majority in the Presidential election a month later. Hence, if the Democrats have carried that State now by a moderate majority, they will simply be holding their own, and the "victory" will be a barren one. On the other hand, if the Republicans have won the fight by the election of HARRISON, though it be by the barest majority, their triumph will be a brilliant one, and will be fruitful of results of the highest importance. Beaten on their own ground, in their chosen tower of strength, under the leadership of their "favorite son," the Democracy will not be able to hold together until next month. And even, which is hardly possible, if in both States it should turn out that the Republicans have lost the day, the temporary reverse will only stimulate them and their friends elsewhere to fresh exertions to secure the Presidential vote of all the Northern States, so that there will be no reason whatever for abating the slightest jot of confidence and courage. All that will be needed is a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, and in November we shall have heard the last of the Democratic party as a national organization, and a united rebel South will never more be heard from. "Once more unto the breach!" Particularly as in both States we have gained from two to four Congressmen.

An Old Lady Burned to Death—Protestant Episcopal Board of Missions.

PHILADELPHIA, October 10.—At about eight o'clock this morning, an old lady named Martha Baker, aged eighty-five, was burned to death at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Spearing, on Ogden street. Mrs. Baker was a cripple and occupied a room in the second story. At the hour mentioned a loud noise was heard in her apartment, and one of the family proceeding to the room to ascertain the cause she found the old lady lying on the floor in flames, her clothes being almost burnt from her body and she quite dead. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed Mrs. Baker's clothes took fire as she was passing the stove. Mrs. Spearing and her daughter, who used every possible exertion to extinguish the flames, were very severely burnt about the face and hands.

This morning the forty-third annual meeting of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States was begun in the Holy Trinity P. E. Church, Nineteenth and Walnut streets. The prisoner having the right under the laws of the Territory to choose death by hanging, shooting or beheading, and having chosen to be shot, was sentenced to be shot to death January 26th, 1877.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

COLUMBUS, October 10.—The vote promises to be the heaviest ever cast in Ohio. The Fourth ward of Columbus gives Bell, Democrat, for Secretary of State, 549; Barnes, Republican, 174; Democratic gain of 165.

Washington township, Miami county, including the city of Piqua, gives Bell 37 majority; Democratic gain of 88. Brown township, Miami county, Bell's majority 104, a Democratic gain of 11.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CALEDONIA, October 11.—The election of Jones, Republican, in the Ninth Congressional district, is conceded by the Democrats.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

TOLEDO, October 10.—The polls in this city closed at six o'clock. A hurrah went up from the crowds of voters, who had stood it all day without a shout. There were four tickets voted, and the counting will be slow, but the earliest indications will be sent. It is certain that an enormous vote has been cast. A large vote was polled in the city. Probably one thousand Greenback votes were cast, drawn about equally from the two parties. It is believed by his friends that General Cox, Republican, will have at least 600 majority in the city. It is quite evident that he is elected to Congress.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

BELLEFONTAINE, October 10.—Union township, Barnes 93, Bell 41, Keefer 95, Arthur 41; Republican gain 4. Harrison township, Barnes 107, Bell 95, Keefer 106, Arthur 95; Republican gain 8.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CINCINNATI, October 10.—The Second ward gives a Republican gain of 14. The Seventh ward gives a Republican majority of 389; Republican gain 128.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CINCINNATI, October 10.—The indications are that the largest vote ever polled in this city and county will be cast today, particularly in the western part of the city, where the interest is intense. Banning, Democrat for Congress, in the Second district, is evidently losing his vote of 1874. He claimed the Nineteenth ward up to twelve o'clock, but it showed a loss to Banning of 223. The majority against him in his own ward, it is estimated, will be 1,050. On the county ticket very little scratching is done. It does not appear that Force, Republican for Congress in the First district, will win, though Sayler's majority will be somewhat reduced.

Dispatches from the interior of State are to the effect that a large vote is being polled. It is claimed that Barnes is running ahead of his ticket in Athens. The Republicans also claim a large gain in Springfield.

CINCINNATI, O., October 10.—The Second ward gives a Republican gain of 14. The Seventh ward a Republican majority of 389—a Republican gain of 128.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CINCINNATI, October 10.—The county is very close and things are terribly mixed. The majorities for both parties come from where least expected. In the First district Sayler, Democrat, is undoubtedly elected by over 1,000 majority. He claims 2,500. In the Second district Matthews runs ahead of his ticket and is probably elected. The county ticket, as far as the count has gone, is very close, and may take the official count to decide. The wards still to finish may show a decrease in the result either way. No calculations can be made, as everybody's figures are upset in all directions. I will give the approximate as soon as it can be done. Barnes is running behind his ticket in this city and in all parts of the State, except country places. Some estimate that he will run 4,000 to 5,000 behind his ticket.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

COLUMBUS, O., 9 P. M., (Columbus time,) October 10, 1876.—Returns from 155 townships, wards and precincts show the following changes on Secretary of State: Republican gains 2,002, Democratic gains, 1,187; net Republican gains, 815; On the vote for Judge of Supreme Court, the net Republican gain is 428. The Fifth ward, Cleveland, Payne's majority 985, Democratic gain 666. It is claimed that Bell's vote will run with Payne's in the county. The Eighth ward, Cleveland, Barnes 225, Bell 930, Democratic gain of 63. Twelve wards in the city of Cleveland show a Democratic gain of 2,532. Springfield, First ward, Barnes 371, Bell 235, Republican gain of 52. Cambridge, Second ward, the home of Colonel Barnes, gives a Republican gain of 31.

COLUMBUS, October 10.—The returns so far received are scattering, and too meagre to base any calculations on. The gains on these scattering townships vote show a Democratic gain of 828 and a Republican gain of 919, being a net of Republican gain of 91 over the vote of last year. A private dispatch received at Democratic headquarters from Cincinnati says the indications are that the vote has fallen short of their calculations. A private dispatch received at Republican headquarters from Cleveland says the indications are that Cuyahoga county will give 5,000 majority for the Republican ticket. Incomplete returns from the Seventh ward of Columbus show over 100 Democratic gain.

COLUMBUS, October 10.—Returns received from 357 townships and wards show Barnes, Republican, gains to be 4,445. Bell, Democrat, gains 2,943, being a net Republican gain of 1,502. This does not include the cities of Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo. A dispatch from Cincinnati says twelve precincts show a Republican gain of 295. There are reports of considerable Democratic gains in Cleveland, but no definite figures yet.

WELLINGTON, O., October 10.—Barnes, Republican, 225; Bell, 133; Republican gain, 45.—Elyria, Republican majority 438, Republican gain 11. Forest, O., Jackson township, Bell 26 Democratic majority; Fink 29, Democratic majority; Clough 24 Democratic majority; Poppleton 27 Democratic majority; Makenan 30 Democratic majority, a Republican gain in each district.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CINCINNATI, October 11, 12:15 A. M.—The returns from Ohio and Indiana are all encouraging, and confirm the conviction of the election of the Republican State ticket. The Fourteenth precinct of the First Ohio district, Sayler leads Force 166. Sixteen precincts of the Second district, Matthews net loss on the Republican majority of 1,479 last year 468, with twenty-nine precincts to hear from. There is a good chance for both Force and Matthews.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

COLUMBUS, O., 1:30 A. M., October 11.—Barnes', Republican, majority as far as reported at this hour is about fifteen hundred. The Republicans claim the State ticket and twelve out of twenty Congressmen. The Democrats do not concede the State, and claim that they hold their own on Congressmen. CINCINNATI, October 11, 1 A. M.—A private dispatch from Indianapolis says Hendricks and Manson look solemn and say the returns are very complicated. Friedley is confident that the Republicans have carried the State. Harrison is of that opinion. Ohio will go Republican from 5,000 to 10,000 majority. Hamilton county is Democratic by a small majority, and Sayler and Banning are probably elected. The result is close and doubtful. Cox is elected in the Toledo district.

COLUMBUS, October 10.—The mass of the election returns which have been received, though it does not give accurate figures, indicates the election of Bell and the entire Democratic State ticket, and the re-election of nearly all the Democratic Representatives in Congress. Sayler has been re-elected in the First district, and the returns, though is yet incomplete, indicate that Payne has secured a re-election in the Cleveland district. Nothing has been heard from the Toledo district or the Dayton one to indicate who has been elected in them. The returns for the Sandusky district, now represented by Foster point, to his defeat, and the election of Hudson, Democrat.

CINCINNATI, October 10.—Scattering returns from Ohio show Republican gains over the vote of 1875, except in Franklin and Cuyahoga counties, where the Republican losses are not larger than was anticipated. The impression is that the Republican State ticket is elected by 8,000 majority. Force, is gaining on Sayler in First district, and there is a prospect of his election. It will be close in the Second district. Some Republicans concede Bannings re-election, but it will be very close. Indiana returns show Republican gains, but a close contest.

Returns received up to twelve o'clock from 621 townships and wards show gains for Barnes, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, over the vote for Governor last year, of 7,910; for Bell, the Democratic candidate, 6,895, a net Republican gain of 1,014. This includes two wards of the city of Cleveland, and three precincts of Hamilton county. If the rest of the State shows the same relative gains, the Republican majority in the State will reach near 10,000. If, however, Cuyahoga should give a total Democratic gain of 2,000, as claimed, and Hamilton county should give also further Democratic gains, this majority will be cut down to about what it was last year. The country generally shows Republican gains, while the cities of Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus show Democratic gains.

It should be borne in mind that the comparison is made with the vote of last year, when the Republican majority was 5,500. This is what the Republican committee claims, while the Democratic Committee claim the State by a still larger majority. The returns received, however, show the result so far to be as given first above. Each candidate for Secretary of State runs ahead in his respective county. In some counties Barnes is scratched on account of his temperance principle. Little can be said of members of Congress, save the probable defeat of Banning in the Second district by Matthews, and Hurd in the Toledo district by ex-Governor Cox.

COLUMBUS, O., October 11.—There seems to be no doubt but that Foster, of the Sandusky district, has been re-elected. His friends claim a larger majority for him than two years ago. Later returns from Dayton show Democratic gains, which further reduce the Republican majority.

Summit county, nineteen townships, Barnes 3,649, Bell 2,785, Democratic gain 46. Trumbull county, twelve townships, Barnes 2,602, Bell 671, Republican gain 28. Tuscarawas county, seven townships, Barnes 1,271, Bell 1,672, Democratic gain 3. Union county, seven townships, Barnes 1,490, Bell 955, Republican gain 86. Van Wert county, three townships, Barnes 415, Bell 239, Democratic gain 7. Vinton county, four townships, Barnes 643, Bell 73, Republican gain 90. Warren county, nine townships, Barnes 2,634, Bell 1,502, Republican gain 178. Washington county, twelve townships, Barnes 1,897, Bell 1,646, Democratic gain 61. Wayne county, twelve townships, Barnes 1,958, Bell 2,324, Democratic gain 111. Williams county, two townships, Barnes 407, Bell 433, Republican gain 28. Wood county, five townships, Barnes 684, Bell 407, Republican gain 58. Wyandotte, Barnes 1,317, Bell 1,697, Democratic gain 94. The comparison is made with the Governor's election in 1875, when the Republican majority was 5,500.

COLUMBUS, October 10.—Returns from 710 townships and wards, including five wards of Cleveland, all of Columbus and Dayton, show Barnes' gains 9,915, Bell's gains 8,375; net Republican gains 1,660. Nothing official from Cincinnati.

The Democrats have probably elected Congressman in the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth and Seventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth districts. The Republicans have probably carried the Third, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth, or twelve districts out of the twenty.

Ten townships and five wards in Greene county give Barnes 3,611, Bell 2,103. Beaver Creek township and Clifton precinct in Miami township are to hear from. Counting those as last year, and there is little change in the county.

TOLEDO, October 10.—The election in this city was very quiet and orderly. The majority for the Republicans on the State ticket is 750, and for Cox for Congress 850. The vote is the largest ever polled. Lucas county will give the Republican State ticket fourteen hundred majority. Cox is doubtless elected to Congress over Hurd, the present incumbent, by 1,200 to 1,500 majority.

CINCINNATI, 2 A. M., October 11.—The Democrats elect their county ticket by a majority from 700 to 1,000. Sayler has about 1,000 majority.

CLEVELAND, 2 A. M., October 11.—The election in this city passed off quietly. There was a very large vote. The entire returns are not in, but enough is in to indicate that the entire Republican ticket is elected by a majority ranging from 1,500 to 2,500. Townsend, Republican, is elected to Congress by about 3,000.

DAYTON, October 11, 2 A. M.—The returns, as indicated by the latest reports, show a Democratic majority in Montgomery county of 1,300, Darke 1,000, Preble, Republican, 400, Green, Republican, 1,900. The vote is very close, but the election of McMahon, Democrat, to Congress is thought probable.

CINCINNATI, 3 A. M., October 11.—Hamilton county, with one ward and three townships yet to hear from, gives Bell 23,955, Barnes 23,965; Finck 26,533, Boynton 27,414; Sayler 13,122, Force 13,170; Banning 13,703, Matthews 13,791. The precincts not heard from give an estimated Democratic majority of 653.

COLUMBUS, October 11, 3 A. M.—Since last report the returns from fifty-six out of the eighty-six precincts of Hamilton county have been received, which have considerably reduced the Republican gain previously given. Counting these and five wards from Cleveland and Dayton and Columbus, complete, the situation is as follows: Total gains for Barnes 12,039; total gains for Bell, 11,274, leaving the net Republican gain 765 over Hayes' majority last year. It seems probable that McMahon has been re-elected in the Third district, and that Matthews has carried the Second, which would leave the Congressional delegation as before stated.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 11.—Forty-four precincts thus far heard from, on the full vote, the net gain for Williams is 443, and for Harrison 939, on the vote of 1874.

INDIANA.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WATERLOO, October 10.—152 Republican majority; Auburn 10, Jackson township 54 Democratic majority; Butler 12 Democratic majority.

EVANSVILLE, October 10.—The whole vote cast in this city is 5,994. This is an increase over 1872 of 429, and an increase over 1874 of 905.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10, 10:39 A. M.—Returns are received from ten townships and wards and seven counties, which give a net Republican majority of 189. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 131. The same places in 1872 gave a net Democratic majority of 25.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—The Democratic Central Committee have dispatches from the southern part of the State which show small Democratic gains, but are based on unofficial reports. There is absolutely nothing reliable yet.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—The situation in the State is still in some doubt. The election is very similar to the ones in 1858 and 1872, when the gubernatorial majorities were less than one thousand. A very heavy vote was polled, and, owing to the great length of the tickets, it is impossible, except in very thinly populated districts, to give the result. The returns already received indicate Republican gains in the Southern part of the State, and losses in the Northern, occasioned by the withdrawal of the German vote. Williams' own township, generally a reliable Democratic precinct, gives Blue Jeans but 23 majority. It is safe to assume that Harrison is elected, but his majority cannot be estimated until fuller reports are received.

The Democratic managers are in receipt of dispatches which they say are contradictory to those received by the Republicans, but they don't give them to the public, and look like men who have no hope. Upon the Congressional ticket the Democrats have carried the First, Second, Third and Twelfth districts, the Republicans the rest, except the Eighth and Tenth, which are in doubt, with the chances in favor of the Republicans.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., October 10, midnight.—The count in this city will hardly any part of it be reached before daylight, and probably not be completed before noon to-morrow. Accounts from all the large towns in the State will be meagre. Those of the smaller precincts are very scattering, and afford no aid to reaching a conclusion of the result. How widely calculations vary may be seen from latest figuring on early returns. The Republicans say thirty-six precincts show Republican gains of 600, and at this ratio would give them 20,000 in the State. The Democratic Central Committee estimate their gains favoraby to them, it is supposed throughout the State proportionately. They will have 23,000 majority. It is, therefore, impossible to form any approximate estimate to-night.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., October 10.—The election passed off without any serious trouble. Both parties worked faithfully the entire day. Very little business was transacted. At several of the polls there was minor disturbances, but a large posse of Deputy Sheriffs were appointed by Sheriff Howard, and special policemen were put on by Mayor Warder, who quickly arrested all the turbulent spirits. The official returns will likely be sent from here to-night. The ticket is very large.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—One precinct in South Bend gives a Democratic majority of 26, a Democratic gain on the vote of 1872. Two townships in Floyd county, Democratic majority 173, a Democratic gain. The returns are coming in very slowly.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—One town in Knox county, Indiana, gives 26 Democratic gain. Taylor township, Harrison county, 39 Democratic gain. One township in Floyd county gives a Democratic gain of 23. The first precinct of South Bend gives a Democratic majority of 37, gain 126. Bedford township, Shelby county, shows a Democratic gain of 42 over the vote of '72.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—We have returns from five townships and wards in five counties, which give a net Republican majority of 174. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 185. The same places in 1872 gave a net Democratic majority of 13.

South Bend, first precinct, Democratic majority 36, Democratic gain 122.

Laporte, Democratic majority 700, gain 500 over 1872.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—Returns are received from ten townships and wards in seven counties, which give a net Republican majority of 189. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 131. The same places in 1872 gave a net Democratic majority of 25.

INDIANAPOLIS, 9:15 P. M., October 10.—There is nothing reliable of any importance. We have returns from two townships which give Harrison a gain of twenty-three. There is reported estimated gains on both sides from different parts of the State, but nothing reliable.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—Reports thus far are very meagre. In seventeen townships, fifteen counties, in which the full vote has been received, the Democratic gains are 152, and the Republican gains 322 on the vote of 1874, and in ten additional townships and reported majorities the Democratic gains are 245, and Republican gains 87. The Democratic Central Committee claim the State by from 5,000 to 10,000, while the Republican Committee claim they have carried the State, but fix no majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—We have returns from twenty townships and wards in seventeen counties, which give a net Republican majority of 476. The same places in 1874 gave a net Republican majority of 73. The same places in 1872 gave a net Republican majority of 195.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 11.—We have returns from fifteen townships and wards in nine counties, which give a net Republican majority of 129. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 189. The same places in 1872 gave a net Democratic majority of 122.

INDIANAPOLIS, 1 A. M., October 11.—We have returns from thirty townships and wards in twenty counties, which give a net Republican majority of 696. The same places in 1874 gave a net Republican majority of 99. The same places in 1872 gave a net Republican majority of 215.

TERRE HAUTE, October 10.—There will be no official returns to-night from here. It is estimated that O. P. Davis, the Independent Greenback nominee for Congress, has carried this county, and that Williams leads Harrison 400 for Governor.

INDIANAPOLIS, 1:40 A. M., October 11.—We have returns from forty-five townships and wards in twenty-eight counties, which give a net Republican majority of forty-three. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 537. The same places in 1872 gave a net Democratic majority of 410.

TERRE HAUTE, October 11.—Two wards and one township in this county show a net Democratic gain of 131.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 11, 3 A. M.—Fifty-eight precincts give Democratic gains of 459 and Republican gains of 1,318, on the vote of 1874 for Governor. No reliable returns can be had to-night on the balance of the State ticket or Congress. The Republicans claim nine out of thirteen, but this is not conceded by the Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 11, 2:35 A. M.—We have returns from fifty townships and wards in thirty-one counties, which give a net Democratic majority of thirteen. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 786. The same places in 1872 gave a net Democratic majority of 324.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 11, 3:20 A. M.—We have returns from sixty townships and wards in thirty-four counties, which give a net Republican majority of 696. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democratic majority of 530. The same places in 1872 gave a net Republican majority of 12.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 11, 3:30 A. M.—Sixty-one precincts, Democratic gains 459, Republican 1,496.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, October 10.—Cannot give any official returns yet, but from all accounts Goff, Republican candidate for Governor, gains heavily.

WHEELING, W. VA., October 10.—No official returns can be obtained before morning, in consequence of the length of the ticket and the intricate election laws. The Democratic county ticket is generally elected. Private information from the State and this city claim the election of Goff, Republican, Governor, unless the Third district gives a heavy Democratic majority.

All Eyes Turned to Ohio and Indiana—The Business Men of the North Sensible of the Dangers of the Hour—The Vagabond Element of the South in Congress Bent on the Ruin of Northern Industry—The Campaign in Pennsylvania Temporarily in Abeyance.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, October 9, 1876.

All eyes are looking with deep concern to the results of the spirited campaign just closed in Ohio and Indiana. At no time in the political history of this country have the business men and those possessed of more substantial interest than the mere abstract sentiment of patriotism so largely turned their attention to the issue of the pending conflict. The audacious policy of revenge instituted by the rebel horde in Congress and fostered by their mendacious allies at the North has aroused every thinking man of the North and impressed them with the paramount fact that the destiny of the Republican party has not yet been achieved. The correspondent of the COMMERCIAL, in conversation with many of the leading manufacturers and business men of Eastern Pennsylvania, has found but one sentiment common to all, and that was an earnest wish for the success of the Republican party. The vagabond element of the South, which has found its way, as a rule, into the halls of Congress, as the representatives of a people who once could boast of the foremost statesmen of the land, has occasioned no small degree of alarm in the industrial communities. After the exhibition which these persons made of themselves at Washington last winter, it is patent to all that the mercantile and commercial interests of the whole North, built up after a century of genius, enterprise and industry, are in as great jeopardy as were the Union and Constitution when antagonised by the embattled hosts of treason. It is not surprising, therefore, that this alarm should be widespread. The latest intelligence received at the Republican headquarters here shows that the voters of Ohio and Indiana are fully aware of the vast significance of to-morrow, and that they are fully aroused to the emergencies of the hour. According to these accounts the desperation of the Democrats shown in their preparations to flood Indiana with fraudulent votes has been fully exposed and measures have been taken to prevent a realization of their iniquitous schemes.

The work of the campaign in this section has been practically suspended in the absorbing interest taken in the issue in the October States. Whatever that may be, the activity of the Republicans in Eastern Pennsylvania will be none the less marked. Everything is in readiness to begin the campaign in earnest, and a successful battle is certain whatever may be the results in Ohio and Indiana to-morrow.

New Jersey.

A SMALL DEMOCRATIC WATERLOO.

NEWARK, October 10.—The charter election in this city to-day for Aldermen, Freeholders and School Commissioners resulted in a Republican majority of 1,600, the Republicans carrying eleven out of the fifteen wards, a gain of five wards compared with 1874. The Board of Aldermen will stand twenty-four Republican to six Democrats. The Democrats claim that as Newark gave 3,373 majority for the Republican Mayor last year, and only 1,600 for the ticket at this election, that therefore there is a heavy Republican loss; but the Republicans claim that as no Mayor was voted for this year, there was not a full vote, and that their majority of 1,600 is a gain as against 671 Republican majority cast in 1874, when a similar ticket to the one just elected was in the field.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

MILLERSTOWN, BUTLER COUNTY, PA., October 10, 1876.

The largest and most inspiring political meeting which has taken place in Donegal township during this campaign was held last week in the neighboring town of St. Joe, on the occasion of raising a pole there by the Republicans. Large delegations from Butler, Millerstown and the surrounding country turned out, making an appearance so vastly superior to anything which we dared to believe could be presented in this Democratic stronghold, that the enthusiasm of the crowded streets knew no bounds. And well might the boys rejoice. Two years ago the entire township of Donegal and borough of Millerstown only cast 159 Republican votes, whereas the latter place alone sent over on the above occasion 125 men in uniform. The club in St. Joe numbers 130 voters, so that we feel every confidence of polling at least 350 to 400 solid votes for Hayes and Wheeler on the 7th of next month. The pole raised by the St. Joe club is, without question, the tallest and handsomest one in this part of the State. It shoots up as straight as a candle until "Old Glory" floats at an altitude of 185 feet. Beyond this, a gas pipe projects some fifteen feet, surmounted by an H, the arms of which are perforated and through which spurt thirteen jets of natural gas, generated in nature's great laboratory, 1,650 feet below the surface of the earth. These jets burn day and night, and can be seen for miles in every direction. It is needless to say that the sight is as beautiful as it is rare. The immense crowd assembled in a fine grove but a short distance from the pole and was addressed by Colonel J. M. Thompson, I. M. Green, candidate for State Senate, Hon. Chas. McCandless and others. After saluting the national emblem with a hearty cheer and a tiger, and giving the Presidential nominees three rousers, the happy, enthusiastic crowd went home more than ever determined to leave no stone unturned to win the great battle so soon to come off. So mote it be.

Hon. Charlton Burnett has been renominated as the Democratic candidate for the Senate in the Twenty-second district by acclamation.

The Democrats of Potter county have nominated the following ticket: Assembly, C. Hollenbeck; Associate Judges, J. C. Potter and Newton Rice; Jury Commissioner, Joel Raymond.

L. H. Watson, of Warren county, has been finally nominated for Congress in the Twenty-seventh district, after 273 ballots and sixty days of wrangling among the Republican conferees.

The Democratic Senatorial conferees of the Twenty-sixth district, composed of Wayne and Susquehanna counties, at a late meeting in Honesdale, nominated E. R. Hawley, of the Montrose Democrat, as a candidate for Senator.

It is now ascertained that when Senator Wallace changed the new naturalization papers into old ones, he used the "Extract of Coffee" manufactured by Sammy Tilden's brother Clement. This is the same article which Uncle Sammy urged Simon Cameron, when Secretary of War, to purchase for the use of soldiers. It did not prove to be a success as a beverage, but answered splendidly for giving an antiquated appearance to new paper.

An Appeal to the Voters of the Twenty-Second District.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Let me urge upon the voters of Pittsburgh and vicinity, through the columns of your valuable paper, the importance of giving the matter their careful consideration before casting their votes in the coming election in November. It has been charged by the Democratic press and orators, that the Republican party have been "waiving the bloody shirt," "reviving the old war issues," "opening the wounds afresh," etc. It has revived the old war issues, that is true enough: but has it not a perfect right to do so? Under the circumstances, would it not be a craven coward party if it deserted the principles it has maintained and not do so? The country is in danger from the same men that sought to destroy it in 1861. The Republican party saved it then, and it is going to save it now. And I say it would be a coward party not deserving of any man's support, should it shrink from its duty now. Let any candid man examine the condition of the South to-day. Let him read the open and defiant statements of the Southern press and leaders. Let him read of the intimidation and massacre of negroes, and he cannot avoid the conclusion that the South are almost in open rebellion, and are ready at any moment to throw off the mask and destroy the Union. There is no disguising this fact. It is just as plain as day. Let Northern Democrats say or be what they will, there is no disguising the fact that they are the abject slaves and toadies of the Southern Democracy; and the avowed intention of the South is to overthrow this nation. The Republican party is seeking to prevent this result, and it is going to do it, "peaceably if it can, forcibly if it must." For I tell you just so sure as the Democratic party get into power in the coming elections, just so sure will the issues have to be fought over again at the point of the bayonet. Yes, Mr. Democrat, we are "waving the bloody shirt," and we shall not cease to wave it as long as the Southern blood-hounds track down the innocent negroes and seek to forge his shackles again. Now, it is essentially necessary to have the power in Congress. It is of more importance to have a Republican Congress than a Republican President; therefore, let me urge the voters of this district to give their suffrages to Mr. Errett. I have nothing to say against Mr. Hopkins personally. He is a high-minded, honorable gentleman, so far as I know, but he is in bad company, and should his party get the control of the Government, he would be necessarily bound to support them and their principles. Let me urge you, my Republican friends, to beware how you vote for a man out of mere personal friendship, who is leagued with the party who sought to destroy this Union, who are still seeking to destroy it, and who are responsible to God for every one of your friends and relations that fell in that struggle. Why, I consider that the war issue in this campaign stands in about the same proportion to the others, as the world does to a grain of sand. If "Boss" Tweed was a candidate of the Republican party, I don't establish it as a principle, but in the present campaign, I would vote for him in preference to the best man the Democrats could nominate. For the welfare and perpetuity of this nation is of far greater importance than the loss of a few paltry millions. You, who are suffering under a load of taxes, beware how you put into power the party who are responsible for those taxes. You, who have fathers, sons, or brothers sleeping beneath the Southern sod, remember it was the Democratic party who put them there. You, who lost your means of sustinance in fighting for your country, remember the Democratic party caused that loss. All you, who fought in the late war for a principle, and those who fought for any other reason are murderers; remember, you are to fight the same battle over again at the polls in the coming election. Let me urge you, men and brothers, to think well before you vote for Mr. Hopkins. Let me urge you to remember the Democratic record. Let me beg you to remember that they are rotten to the core. Let me tell you that the Democratic party North, whatever be their principles, are controlled by the Democratic party South, and must do their bidding. Let me urge all who are laboring to pay off our $2,600,000,000 debt, to beware lest they put into power the party who will double that debt. Let me urge all who are dependent upon Pittsburgh industries for support, not to touch Mr. Hopkins with a ten-foot pole, for in so doing they are taking the bread from their own mouths and those of their families. By voting for him, they are taking the first step towards starvation and want. Now, Mr. Errett is a strong Union man; Mr. Errett is opposed to free trade; Mr. Errett is sound on the financial question; moreover, Mr. Errett is an honest man. Now, one word about reform. "Lay not the flattering unction to your souls" that the Democratic party means anything by its promises of reform. There is no such thing as reform in their constitution. On the contrary, that the Republicans desire reform, is evidenced by the investigations in Washington during the last two years. When did the Democrats ever desire an investigation when one of their own party was implicated? I am ready to vote for the Democratic party if any one can convince me that it can do better for the general good of the country; but I have looked at the matter in every possible light, and have come to the conscientious conclusion that the Republican party is the party of progress, reform and true patriotism, and if any man don't love his country and desires its prosperity he should be branded as a coward and send to the Fiji Islands.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1876.

IT is observable that Mr. HOPKINS completely ignores TILDEN in his speeches. Why is this thus?

GENERAL McCLELLAN was a military failure, and lost his military head. He is now a moth-eaten Democratic reformer.

THE latest charge against Governor HAYES, put forth by a TILDEN orator in Ohio, is that "he never obtained an office that was not thrust upon him."

A PARAGRAPH is going the rounds of the Democratic papers which puts the official Republican majority in Maine at about 11,200. The official table has been published, and the official majority on Governor is 15,037.

THE Post is struggling laboriously for the champion's badge to be awarded to the greatest campaign liar. So far it is decidedly ahead, and it will be able, in the end, to add that trophy to the collar it wears around its neck inscribed, "I am HOPKINS' dog—whose dog are you?"

JEFF. DAVIS, too, heartily indorses the nomination of TILDEN. He writes from London to a friend in Washington that he earnestly desires the election of TILDEN, and that the sympathies of all the monarchists and Confederate "exiles" in England are with the Democratic cause.

AMERICAN hydography will soon, according to the President of the British Scientific Association, supply the data from tidal observations, long ago asked of the English Government in vain by a committee of the Association, by which the amount of the earth's elastic yielding to the distorting influence of sun and moon will be measured.

JAMES K. POLK, DALLAS and the tariff of '42 DUFF, says that the Pittsburgh Democrat is not a Democratic paper, while the general report is that it was started with TILDEN's money. The editor of the Democrat is determined that the people shall not be cheated, now, as they were by JAMES K. POLK and DALLAS in '44. He sails under his true colors.

THE world-wide name and fame of that gallant champion of freedom, Senator BLAINE, will attract an enormous concourse of citizens to listen to his speech in City Hall, to-night, and well will they be repaid for their attendance. He richly deserves all the cordiality that can be shown him, and in honoring him Pittsburgh will honor herself.

MR. HOPKINS, on the stump, gives extracts from his speeches in 1861, 1862 and 1864. He omits 1863 altogether; and the omission is ominous. It is also singular that all the bound files of the Post to be found in this city, for 1863, which have been searched have, in every case, been mutilated by cutting out every speech that Hopkins made in that year; and it was in 1863, we understand, that he made his disloyal speeches.

THE foreign commerce of New York, last week, was: Merchandise imports, $5,039,112; produce exports, $5,335,115, and specie exports, $98,524. The total imports of merchandise since the 1st of January, this year, were $225,711,713, against $261,776,706 for the corresponding period in 1875, and $316,052,261 in 1874; the total exports of produce were $201,853,014, against $191,280,300 in 1875, and $224,828,723 in 1874, and the total exports of specie were $40,331,099, against $63,330,917 in 1875, and $43,544,607 in 1874.

"J. DON CAMERON, Secretary of War, passed through the city on his way East yesterday morning. He had been aiding to arrange the wires in Indiana and Ohio." —Post.

Secretary CAMERON, who has been making an extensive tour of inspection of the military posts of the far West, in company with General SHERMAN, spent Saturday at the Government arsenal and works, at Rock Island, reaching Chicago on Sunday and leaving yesterday morning for Washington direct.

THERE is no longer any doubt that TILDEN did incur certain pecuniary losses during the war. Among them, according to the Bennington (Vt) Banner—

"Was a cargo of medicines, captured while attempting to run the blockade into a Southern port, during the war, and confiscated by the United States Government. The Tildens afterward sued General Ben Butler personally for the capture and confiscation, and Governor S. J. Tilden was attorney against Butler and the Government to recover pay for the lost medicines of his brothers. The Tildens were beaten."

THE so called "small suits" against TWEED, although the amount embraced is a round million of dollars, has been put over to the November term, "no judge being ready to try the case." These $15,000 a year judges have lately had a vacation of two months, and have barely recommenced their duties. Other professional men are glad to get a month, while editors and physicians must put up with a week or a fortnight. The New York courts should open on the first of September instead of the first of October, or else the judges should be docked in pay. As there are nineteen judges, such a reduction would make a very nice saving. These nineteen judges are allowed much larger pay than the same officials in the country; but they do not deserve it, since most of them have outside ways of making money.

ANTICIPATING the eventual national ascendancy of the Democratic party, the Louisville Courier-Journal, whose editor was Chairman of the last National Democratic Convention, says:

In time we shall have a revenue tariff. The country will not submit to pay New England hundreds of millions of dollars, getting thence only $3,000,000 of taxes. A thumb-screw of New England's own fabrication will be applied. The factories will suspend. The great commercial houses will go into bankruptcy. Grass will grow in the market places. Poverty, univeral and gaunt, will stare the millionaires in the face. Just as the South is suffering, so shall New England suffer; and, when the trial comes, New England will use the same arguments which we use to day.

This is the kind of tariff TILDEN and HENDRICKS, as well as HOPKINS and COCHRAN, are pledged to by their support of the St. Louis platform.

THE Italian Chamber of Deputies has been dissolved by the Ministry, and new elections have been ordered to be held at the beginning of next month. It is believed by the ruling party that a new Chamber will be composed of much more radical elements than the present one. It is even charged by the opposition that risk is run of having a Republican Parliament. That the tendencies of feeling in Italy are toward a republican form of government cannot be denied, and the traditions of very bright periods of the experience of some portions of the country encourage such aspirations. There are vague notions in the popular mind that the republic is capable of producing a sort of industrial and social millennium. A great work of popular instruction, however, remains to be done before the masses can be safely intrusted with a much larger measure of political influence than they now possess.

LAST winter a commission was organized to examine into the workings of the prison system of New York. The report of the commission has recently been published. In it they state that they have found the greatest frauds, carelessness and false entries in the books; the books altered, mutilated or missing; money taken from the Treasury by false vouchers; property stolen, or loaned and never recovered. Corruption in the prison system has been known to exist for years, and twice the attempt has been made by Republicans to reform the system by constitutional amendment. Both times the Democrats have resisted this effort, and both times they have defeated it. Once the Democratic party voted down the amendments at a popular election, and once the Democrats in the Assembly voted solid against letting the people vote again on the same amendments. "Reform is necessary."

THE dodge of the Democracy in this Congressional district now is to pretend to be in favor of the Union soldiers, and the true friends of those measures which were secured to the war; but the vote given by Mr. HOPKINS to refer to the Centennial Committee the resolution of Mr. FORT requiring the officers of the House, in filling subordinate places under their authority, "to give to well qualified Union soldiers preference over soldiers of the late Confederate army," was a direct insult to every Union soldier in his district. He said to them, in effect, "You are no more worthy of a position, however humble, under the Government, because your bravery and devotion saved the Union, than is the worst rebel of the South who fought to destroy the Union." The boys in blue have not forgotten this insulting vote; and his attempts to catch their suffrages with honey this fall will prove completely abortive.

DELIRIUM TREMENS!

The Post, Mr. HOPKINS' organ, has this disease badly. Its issue of yesterday affords abundant evidence that it is no longer under the control of discreet and prudent advisers. Had we space, we should reproduce from its columns, for the amusement of our readers, the whole tissue of its frenzied and malignant attacks upon the Republican candidate for Congress, Hon. RUSSELL ERRETT. They savor far more of the frantic utterances of conscious despair and coming defeat, than than they do of the just criticisms of a fair minded and honorable political opponent. In fact, the Post is "as mad" as KING LEAR in Act V, scene 5, and the destructive fate awaits it and its Congressional candidate which the Gods are said to have in reserve for all such lunatics. Having been completely unhorsed on the Discrimination issue, and their shallow cry of Reform having become a by-word and a reproach everywhere, they now seek to inject a new question into the pending canvass—the "CUSTER" matter. We are not aware that the reputation, character and public services of this distinguished Union General are staked upon the present election of a Congressman in the Twenty-second Congressional district. There is no allusion to it, that we can now recall, in either of the platforms of principles enunciated at Cincinnati and St. Louis, and of which Messrs. ERRETT and HOPKINS are the respective representatives. It may be safely assumed, however, that the election of Mr. HOPKINS, a copperhead of the most venomous sort during the war of the rebellion, in which General CUSTER won his spurs and his fame, would not be regarded by him, if living, as a vindication of his memory. The climax of absurdity and impudence is certainly reached by the Post, when it seeks to draw votes over the dead body of the deceased Union General to HOPKINS, who denounced him and his brave comrades as the hirelings and dupes of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, when confronting on the bloody field of battle the armed hosts of the Confederacy who are now "solid" for TILDEN, HENDRICKS and Reform. The Post has no mission or authority for taking charge of General CUSTER's reputation, or for administering upon his estate or affairs. Impartial history will do justice to the memory of the gallant officer as well as to the reputation of copperheads who fought so valiantly in the rear for the lost cause. We fear Mr. HOPKINS cannot be elected, just at this time, upon the reputation of General CUSTER, as the Post crazily imagines. Let them try something else—say the "Tariff" dodge.

HON. THOS. M. MARSHALL.

Says the Post of yesterday:

"Every few days the Republican journals of this city announce the intention of THOMAS M. MARSHALL, Esq., to take the stump for HAYES and WHEELER. The time was when our distinguished citizen didn't wait to be invited, he was about the first in and the last out of the fray. He is now examining with prayerful spirit the old record of Wheeler, who was high up among the Know-Nothings, and of Hayes who is a modern Alliance man."

Having taken charge of General CUSTER's reputation, the Post is now concerned about that of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Hon. THOMAS M. MARSHALL. It will, doubtless, gratify Mr. HOPKINS' official organ to learn that Mr. MARSHALL will preside at the meeting to be addressed by Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE at City Hall this evening, when the gentleman will doubtless take occasion to relieve the Post of further anxiety concerning where he stands in this contest.

MR. HOPKINS pretends to doubt whether the rebel claims now pending in Congress would be paid in the event of the Government going entirely into the hands of the Democracy. But he cannot pretend ignorance of the fact that the present Democratic House of Representatives has entertained a bill opening the way for an avalanche of such demands, and to sweep away all distinction as to the loyalty or disloyalty of the claimants. Here is the bill in question. It was introduced by H. T. RIDDLE, Representative from the Fourth district of Tennessee, in the House of Representatives, February 28, 1876. It was read twice, referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, ordered to be printed, and can be taken up and passed whenever the Democracy get full control of the several branches of the Government:

A bill directing compensation to be allowed for the use and occupation of property by the United States Army during the late war.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized to allow reasonable compensation to ALL CITIZENS of the United States FOR THE USE AND OCCUPATION OF THEIR PROPERTY BY THE UNITED STATES ARMY, or any part thereof, during the late civil war, in the same manner and under the same regulations as compensation is now allowed for quartermaster stores used by said army: Provided, however, That the affidavit of the claimant, supported by the competent testimony of any reputable citizen, SHALL BE SUFFICIENT PROOF TO ESTABLISH THE FACT OF THE USE AND OCCUPATION OF SUCH PROPERTY BY SAID ARMY. But it is not the intention of this act to limit the parties to the amount of proof herein specified; but other and additional testimony may be taken to establish the fact of the use and occupation, and the rental value of the property occupied.

Mr. HOPKINS knows, also, that a Democratic President and Congress must necessarily be the creatures of a "solid South," and that no Democratic administration ever turned a deaf ear to Southern clamor. The country may as well realize, first as last, that the turning over of the Government to Democratic rule will involve the payment of damages to the South, arising out of the war, to the amount of from one to three billions of dollars. It was doubtless a perception of this fact which induced HORATIO SEYMOUR, in his late speech, to plead for the retention of a Republican majority in the Senate of the United States, in order that a possible Democratic President and House of Representatives may be held in check.

THE Louisville Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South is, or was a few days ago, in session in that city. During the proceedings one of the members presented to the Conference the draft of a petition to the Congress of the United States in support of a claim which the Southern Methodist Publishing House of Nashville asserts against the United States for indemnity for the use and consumption of their property in 1864 and 1865. The petition, as presented, contained this sentence:

This publishing house is one of the largest public charities in America, calculated to do vast moral and religious good to the entire nation.

According to the Louisville Commercial, the word "nation" aroused the sleeping ire of Hon. WILLIS B. MACHEN, ex-Confederate representative and ex-United States Senator and salary-grabber, and a Democratic reformer of the TILDEN school, who arose, and, remembering the great Democratic doctrine that the United States had no constitutional power to protect itself against armed rebellion, protested against the use of the word "nation" in the petition. He suggested the substitution of the term "people" as being less objectionable to the great masses. By the "great masses" he doubtless meant the White Leaguers of the South, who propose to run that part of the United States by the potent influence of the shot gun and derringer. One member expressed the hope that the change would not be made, as it would involve the conference in political questions, to which all should object. But the offerer of the petition accepted the amendment of Mr. MACHEN, and the paper was then approved. Here we have the deliberate judgment of an important Southern religious body that this is not a "nation," even with a small n. The Commercial well says that every day's developments accumulate evidence that the Democratic politicians of the South mean mischief if they again obtain control of the National Government.

COMMENTING on the admission of an English manufacturer, in a letter written from the Centennial Exposition to the London Times, that the United States is outstripping Great Britain in the race for industrial and manufacturing supremacy, the Philadelphia Press observes:

"What we have always contended for, and what the free traders have denied, is that protection would not only elevate man in the United States and elsewhere, by paying him the best wages for his labor, but that by this very means he would make the best work, until at last our manufacturers would beat the European in their own markets, home and foreign. This argument has been resisted with an insolent presumption by the Tilden and proslavery Democrats, who, in view of the triumph and necessity of protection, stand ready under Mr. Morrison's free trade bill, to force us back into free trade and low wages, and to deprive the South of the chance to establish manufactures from the produce of her own soil."

Exactly. And in the ratio in which England's danger is imminent, will England's struggle to break down our tariff be proportionately desperate. In this attempt, too, the manufacturers of that country have the direct sympathy and countenance of the Democratic party of the United States, whose dishonest and violent denunciation in national convention of the Republican protective policy receives at least the tacit indorsement and approval of HOPKINS and COCHRAN, both of whom voted for the free trade Speaker who appointed the free trade Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, the man who introduced the bill to overthrow our tariff—framed in England and printed in the London Trade Journal before the members of the committee in question ever saw or heard of it!

OF COURSE the Democrats are greatly exercised over Governor CHAMBERLAIN's proclamation ordering the disbandment of the so-called "Rifle Clubs" of South Carolina. The order, as the New York Post pertinently points out, is purely a State measure, and yet the Democratic advocates of State rights are bitterly dissatisfied, and accuse the Governor of a gross act of tyranny and usurpation. The Charleston Courier says: "If Governor CHAMBERLAIN means revolution, in heaven's name let it go on!" These words are pregnant with ominous significance. Indeed, that State is practically in a condition of war to-day. The old rebel element is coming to the front again with the old passions and perfidies and ready to take in hand the old work. They boast that they are better prepared to fight now than they were in 1861. They have organized to win. They have a Republican majority of 40,000 to overcome, and no deeds of violence and murder will be omitted that are necessary to bring about the result. Unless they are restrained by the power of the General Government there is likely to be such work in South Carolina during the present campaign as will make free institutions a mockery and a burlesque.

There is no statute of limitations for disloyalty to the Union.

There have been eleven hundred deaths in Savannah from yellow fever since August 21st, but not a single full-blooded negro has been attacked with any of the symptoms.

Business is still firing up. A Richmond stove company is filling orders for stoves which are shipped to Norway and Brazil. They have also letters of inquiry from London and Australia.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company have begun the construction of that portion of the road which crosses the San Joaquin Valley, from Goshen to Gatos, a distance of forty-nine miles.

All the evidence, so far as the revival of trade is concerned, is favorable. In addition to the establishment of large cutlery manufactories in Syracuse, N. Y., it is now announced that an immense plate-glass manufactory is about to be built in Huntington county, this State, with foreign capital.

Fashion has decreed that blue-upon-red, green-upon-orange, and plum-upon-yellow will be popular for street colors this season, and our staid thoroughfares will soon resemble the gay streets of some foreign military town, where the scarlet and blue uniforms give a Turneresque coloring to the landscape.

"The beautiful is higher than the good." Even the penchant of Americans for improved machinery is overcome by their admiration of the pictures and statuary at the Centennial, and the outcome of this part of the Exposition will be an elevated taste, an advance in civilization, the importance of which cannot be estimated.

Information as to the portraits on postage stamps: "The bust on the one cent stamp represents Franklin; twos, Jackson; threes, Washington; fives, Taylor; sixes, Lincoln; sevens, Stanton; tens, Jefferson; twelves, Clay; fifteens, Webster; twenty-fours, Scott; thirties, Hamilton; nineties, Perry. The seven, twelve and twenty-four cent stamps are not now issued, but many of them are in circulation."

PERSONAL.

The Marquis of Lorne was recently objected to at the Westminster Registration Court on the ground that he did not occupy the house No. 1 Grosvenor Crescent. It was stated that the house had been let by the Marquis to Sir Wilfrid Lawson, M. P., and that he is now residing at Kensington Palace. The objection was held to be good, and the name was struck off the list.

The early history of New Hampshire has got to be rewritten. For generations it has been accepted as a fact that the founder of New Hampshire was one Captain Mason, and its earliest band of settlers "the Laconia company;" but a document has just turned up which shows that they were not the pioneers. This is an indenture between David Thomson, for whom Thompson's Island in Boston harbor was named, and three merchants of Plymouth, England, for transporting certain persons to New England and establishing a plantation dated in 1662, and found not long ago in the rich collection of Winthrop papers belonging to Robert C. Winthrop; and a careful investigation by Charles Deane of Cambridge, Mass., conclusively establishes from it the fact that Thompson came over to New England and made a permanent settlement at the mouth of the Piscataqua river independently of Captain Mason, and at least six years before the organization of the Laconia company.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

DANIEL DERONDA. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Middlemarch," etc. Published by Harper & Brothers. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

We have already given an exalted opinion of the merits of this regal story when the first volume appeared, and the second volume enhances instead of diminishes our estimate of its value. No living writer combines such elements of power as a novelist. The characters are drawn with faultless accuracy, and every phase seems complete, even the more unimportant characters and trivial events give evidence of artistic finish. Few enter into the inner working of the mind as this gifted author, and this power of scanning life and character with microscopic penetration is one of the secrets of her wonderful gifts. The characters are wholly different from those in her previous novels, and there is, if anything, a higher tone and more dramatic though the same exalted principle which inspires all her works is strongly seen in this story—a purpose to help the oppressed, and in this case a strong arm is lifted in behalf of the Jews and the wrong and oppression they have received in various forms. It seems to be the universal verdict of critics that Daniel Deronda is one of the most remarkable stories of the age, and is generally regarded as being superior to any George Eliot has written. Almost every page sparkles with beauty, and it would be impossible in a brief criticism to give the gist of this story. Suffice it to say the great fame of George Eliot is more brilliant than ever. Besides the library edition of two volumes, bound in green cloth, buyers can purchase an elegant edition in paper covers. Take the following paragraph of its graphic beauty:

"There comes a terrible moment to many souls when the great movements of the world, the larger destinies of mankind, which have lain aloof in newspapers and other neglected reading, enter like an earthquake into their own lives; when the slow urgency of growing generations turns into the tread of an invading army or the dire clash of civil war, and gray fathers know nothing to seek for but the corpses of their blooming sons, and girls forget all vanity, to make lint and bandages which may serve for the shattered limbs of their betrothed husbands. Then it is as if the invisible Power that has been the object of lip-worship and lip-resignation became visible, according to the imagery of the Hebrew poet, making the flames his chariot and riding on the wings of the wind, till the mountains smoke and the plains shudder under the rolling, fiery visitation. Often the good cause seems to lie prostrate under the thunder of unrelenting force; the martyrs live reviled, they die, and no angel is seen holding forth the crown and the palm branch. Then it is that the submission of the soul to the Highest is tested, and even in the eyes of frivolity life looks out from the scene of human struggle with the awful face of duty, and a religion shows itself which is something else than a private consolation."

POEMS OF PLACES. Edited by Henry W. Longfellow, England. Vol. 2. Published by James R. Osgood & Co., Boston. For sale by J. R. Weldin & Co., Pittsburgh.

The gifted Longfellow seems to have prepared this collection of "Poems of Places," for his own pleasure as well as to impart pleasure to those who shall read its pages. No one is more competent to edit such a collection than he. It fitly reflects scenes of nature and the beauty of earth. It belongs to a class of books that will awaken in its perusal pleasurable feelings in those who have visited those favorite haunts, as well as to those who have simply read descriptions of these places. These secluded spots are favorite resorts of English poets. Other volumes of a like character are promised, descriptive of different countries till the circle is complete. The book is printed and bound in the style of the Classic Series of this enterprising firm, and sold at the low price of one dollar per volume.

IVANHOE. A romance by Sir Walter Scott, Bart. Condensed by Rossiter Johnson. Published by Henry Holt & Co., New York.

This new departure of condensing novels and printing similar in style and size of "Little Classics," at first thought seems improbable, but Mr. Johnson's success in condensing "Ivanhoe" demonstrates that it is possible to make a more attractive novel by cutting out passages here and there than when it appeared first from the author. The verdict of many critics is that Rossiter Johnson's pruning of Scott's master-piece has been executed with skill. We are to have "condensed" novels of "Our Mutual Friend," by Dickens, and "The Last Days of Pompeii," by Bulwer. These classics are bound in bright red cloth, gilt and black designs, 18 mo., and sold at the low price of one dollar per volume.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY!

The Cordial Balm of Syricum and Tonic Pills.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

However obscure the cause may be which contribute to render nervous debility a disease so prevalent, affecting, as it does, nearly one-half of our adult population, it is a melancholy fact that day by day, and year by year, we witness a most frightful increase of nervous affections from the slightest neuralgia to the more grave and extreme forms of characterized by a general languor or weakness of the whole organism, especially of the nervous system, obstructing and preventing the ordinary functions of nature; hence there is a disordered state of the secretions; constipation, scanty and high-colored urine with an excess of earthy or limey sediment, indicative of waste of brain and nerve substance, frequent palpitations of the heart, loss of memory, and marked irresolution of purpose, and inability to carry into action any well defined business enterprise, or to fix the mind upon any one thing at a time. There is great sensitiveness to impressions though retained but a short time, with a flickering and fluttering condition of the mental faculties, rendering an individual what is commonly called a whiffle-minded, or fickle-minded man.

This condition of the individual, distressing as it is, may, with a certainty, be cured by

THE CORDIAL BALM OF SYRICUM AND LOTHROP'S TONIC PILLS.

Medicines unrivalled for their wonderful properties and remarkable cures of all Nervous Complaints. Their efficacy is equally great in the treatment and cure of Cancers, Nodes, Ulcers, Pustule, Pimples, Tetter, Fever Sores, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Scaldhead, Barbers' Itch, Scurvy, Salt Rheum, Copper-Colored Blothes, Glandular Swelling, Worms and Black Spots in the Flesh, Discolorations, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth and Nose, Sore Legs, and sores of every character, because these medicines are the very best

BLOOD MEDICINE

Ever placed before the people, and are warranted to be the most Powerful Alterative ever originated by man, removing Morbid Sensibility, Depression of Spirits, Dementia, and Melancholia.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY EVENING, October 10, 1876.

General trade moves along in much the same quiet way as has been reported in these columns for several weeks past. As the season advances there is an increased inquiry for manufactured goods, yet the demand is not yet up to that of former years.

With the fall trade upon us and every prospect of increased business after the election, the tone of the market will improve more and more, and if the season do not prove altogether a prosperous one, it is expected at least to show a larger gain upon the past year. Stocks of most of the necessary and luxuries of life throughout the country are believed to have been drawn down to a lower point than usual and there is known to be an abundant harvest with which to stimulate exchanges.

The past two years have, without doubt, been the hardest in the expeience of the present generation of merchants and traders, but the dishonest practices, the financial rascality and the commercial rottenness which these years have brought to light, and the readjustment of many disjointed business relations which has been effected during that period will, in the end, be worth all they have lost. With a clearer atmosphere, the conditions of success can be more clearly comprehended, and the business community can at least congratulate themselves on the gain which has been made in this respect, and on the removal of many of the stumbling blocks which have been in the way.

—In the whole range of sacred and profane literature, perhaps, there is nothing recorded which has such staying properties as a good, healthy mortgage.

A mortgage can be depended on to stick closer than a brother. It has a mission to perform which never lets up. Day after day it is right there, nor does the slightest tendency to slumber impair its vigor in the least. Night and day, and at holiday times, without a moment's rest for sickness or recreation, the biting offspring of its existence goes on.

The seasons may change, days run into weeks, weeks into months, and months be swallowed up into the gray man of advancing years, but that mortgage stands up in sleepless vigi ance, with the interest of a perennial stream, ceaselessly running on.

Like a huge nightmare eating out the sleep of some restless slumberer, the unpaid mortgage rears up its gaunt front in perpetual torment to the miserable wight who is held within its clutch. It holds the poor victim with the relentless grasp of a giant; not one hour of recreation; not a moment's evasion of its hideous presence. A genial savage of mollifying aspect while the interest is paid; a very devil of hopeless destruction when the payments fail.

Our liabilities may be evaded or smoothed aside; but a mortgage hangs on with the pertinacity of a bull-dog or the grip of a blacksmith's vice. If the interest is paid it is added to swell its grim parent, the principal, and holds up its horrible front with a harder seeming than before. It will have the pound of flesh which is nominated in the bond; and more terrible than the fearful witches of Macbeth, the threatening fiend, Foreclosure, rears up its dreaded menace with the crushing weight of hopeless despair.

Pity for the poor man who has the grim fiend in his household. Every hour of his life is fraught with one intact endurance of misery and dread, embittered with a grievous load he is powerless to shake away.

GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, TUESDAY, October 10, 1876.

BUSINESS.—Trade continues to move steadily along, presenting nothing very new or important. As a general thing dealers appear satisfied with the situation and outlook. The demand for the leading products have been well maintained. In regard to prices we have scarcely any change to record. Flour was in good demand; trade in that line looks healthy, and a good deal has changed hands during the week. The stock on hand is considered ample. Groceries are steady. Country dealers will find it to their advantage to give our dealers a call before going further East—there is money in it as well as saving of time. Country produce is coming in more freely with liberal sales.

The following are the receipts of the leading articles of produce for the past twenty-four hours:

Flour, bbls	1,884	Apples, bbls	139
Cheese, bxs	228	Corn, bus	550
Wheat, bus	2,653	Barley, bus	1,350
Rye, bus	125	Oats, bus	4,093
Butter, pkgs	57	Bacon, pcs	1,458
Bacon, tcs	95	Potatoes, bus	1,261

The quotations given in the following reports are prices realized in wholesale transactions, unless otherwise specified. On small sales, dealers will charge an advance. Prices of grain, unless stated to the contrary, are free in elevator:

Grain, Flour and Feed.

GRAIN—The market continues to move along slowly, with a firm feeling on the part of holders, who are not disposed to make concessions in the market in order to effect sales. The receipts for some days show an increase. The rates current are as follows: We quote new winter at $1 20@1 22 per bushel for prime red; $1 23@1 25 for choice do; $1 22@1 25 for amber; $1 25@1 28 for white. Corn is tolerably firm but not very active, the supply and the demand being both rather limited. We quote shelled at 57@58c for prime yellow Kansas; 55@56c for Ohio ditto; 54@55c for high-mixed; 53@54c for low-mixed. Ear is quiet at 54@55c for prime yellow; 52@53c for mixed. Oats continue active at yesterday's rates. The supply is more liberal and prices somewhat easier but rule generally at our figures. We quote prime white at 39@40c; mixed do 37@38c. Rye is firm, with rather light supply. Holders quote at 65@68c. Barley is steady but rather slow. We quote at 90c@1 10 for good to prime spring. Jobbing sales are made at the usual advance.

FLOUR—Is coming in pretty freely, the receipts for the past two days reaching 3,367 barrels. This puts the market in a good condition to receive purchasers. Holders continue firm in their views and are not disposed to lower their prices in order to effect sales. The following are the latest figures for the wholesale trade of local millers: No. 1 white wheat flour $7 00 ₩ barrel: No. 1 amber do $6 50@6 75; red wheat flour $6 25@6 50; in sacks 25c off ₩ barrel. The jobbing prices of the leading dealers for standard brands of flours are steady as follows: Choice brands of winter wheat flour $6 50@6 75; white wheat $7 50@7 75; Wisconsin is quoted at $6 00@6 25; Minnesota $6 50@6 55; fancy St. Louis $8 50@9 00; choice patents $8 50@9 00; Graham flour $6 50@6 75; cornmeal 70c ₩ bushel; oatmeal $6 00 ₩ barrel; kegs $3 25; rye flour $4 50@4 75 ₩ barrel.

HAY—The market was quiet without any change worthy of mention. The stock in first hands is not large, but seems to be ample for all ordinary purposes. We quote loose from country wagons as per quality and condition, at $10 00@12 00@15 00 ₩ ton. Baled ranges from $13 00@15 00; No. 1 timothy $10 00@12 00; No. 2 prairie $9 00@12 00 ₩ ton.

MILL FEED—The market contains a fair supply, and prices have been uniform for some time with an active market. We quote bran at $11 50@12 00 ₩ ton; seconds and shipstuffs $14 00@16 00; middling $20 00@21 00; chopped feed $20 00@22 00.

Country Produce.

APPLES—We can report only moderate receipts. The supply, however, seems to be ample for present purposes. The tendency is toward lower prices. The extreme ranges of prices are from 75c to $1 50 per bbl.

BEANS—Dealers report a fair trade demand at unchanged prices, viz.: small white navy $1 15@1 25 ₩ barrel.

BROOM CORN—Was more fancied. We quote choice hurl with sales at 7@8½c, as to quality; brush that will work up 6@6½c; medium green 5½@6c; red tipped 5@5½c; inferior 3@4c; crocked 2@2½c.

BUTTER—The receipts are increasing by river and rail, with a fair supply in the market of medium and common grades, whilst the reverse is the situation in regard to choice table. The rates are: Prime to choice solid packed 23@25c; do roll 27@29c; choice dairy rolls 29@30c; fancy creamery 35@36c ₩ ℔.

CHEESE—The demand is active and prices are firm. We quote prime Ohio factory in round lots at 12c ₩ ℔ for August makes; jobbing at 12½@13c; September cheese rules at 13c in round lots. New York Goshen rules at 12¼@13c in round lots; 13@13½c in a jobbing way.

CHESTNUTS—The market is easy and prices are lower, ruling to-day at $5 00@5 50 ₩ bushel.

EGGS—Dealers report a fair trade demand. The current rates are 18@20c ₩ dozen.

CRANBERRIES—We can report only a moderate demand with nominal rates at $10 00@12 00 ₩ barrel.

FEATHERS—Choice are quoted at 60@65c in wholesale lots; lower qualities 50@60c.

FRESH FRUITS—The stock of grapes has been materially reduced, hence prices are well maintained with sales at $4 00 per cwt. Pears are steady at $2 00@2 50 per bushel.

HONEY—There is a quiet and easy market with new domestic ruling at 20c ₩ ℔; new California 20@23c ₩ ℔.

POULTRY—The demand is fair and the market is steady. We quote live chickens at 35@45c ₩ pair by the coop.

COAL—Dull; bituminous is quoted at 6¼@7½c, delivered; anthracite $6 00 ₩ ton for broken egg by the car load, and $6 50@6 75 delivered.

DRIED FRUIT—The supply exceeds the demand, hence we have a dull market; prices are too uncertain to quote.

POTATOES—Are in fair supply and prices are well maintained. We quote Irish in a jobbing way: Peach blows, 85c; common, 75c. Sweets, Jerseys, $3 25@3 50 per bushel; Baltimores $2 50@3 00.

SEEDS—Timothy seed is dull and weak at $2 00@2 15 per bushel. Cloverseed is quiet and easy at $7 50@8 00 ₩ bushel.

VINEGAR—There is a moderate demand at 16@18c ₩ gallon for prime country stock; 14@15c for best city makes.

ONIONS—The demand has fallen off. We quote at $2 00@2 50 per bbl.

TALLOW—Held firmly; rough 5½c; city rendered 8½@8¾c; country 7¼@7½c.

October 10.—The market is devoid of activity, with buyers and sellers somewhat apart in their views.

PARKERS, October 10.—The market this morning was somewhat excited after the scare of last night's, when United was sold down to $3 36¼; opening strong at $3 40 with no sellers, it rapidly advanced to $3 50, then suddenly turned and fell back gradually on persistent offerings to $3 37½. Here the decline was checked and a slight advance to $3 40 established, where it now rests. Shipment entirely neglected, pipeage paid oil of outside lines being offered 5@7½c below United certificates. Well rates about same as spot.

REFINED—Market quiet; sales restricted to the wants of the home trade. Speculation just now not indulged in. In fact the market appears slightly demoralized. The fluctuations in the oil regions is not calculated to increase the confidence of buyers to any extent. We quote nominally to the city trade 23c: 500 and 1,000 bbl lots 22@22½c; New York delivery 25½@26c; Baltimore and Philadelphia delivery 25¼@26c.

OIL BARRELS—Market weak and prices lower; city made $1 25@1 30; country made $1 15@1 20.

[By Western Union Telegraph].

OIL CITY, October 10.—The Derrick says: The market opened at $3 56¼, but nothing obtainable at that price. At eleven o'clock a few lots sold at $3 58¼@3 58¾@3 59¾ and one or two lots at $3 60. Then the bears entered the arena and commenced and pounded so persistently that by six o'clock the market was down to $3 47½, and in the evening a continued and further decline was so soon effected that from $3 45 the market dropped to $3 40. At the close the market was weak and panicky and could have been quoted at about $3 36¼. No shipment quoted. Total sales 65,000 barrels.

TITUSVILLE, October 10.—The Courier says: The market was dull and drooping through the day. Everybody seemed to be like the market dull. United opened at $3 57¼, but fell off at once, declining down, down, down. At the close $3 37½ was bid, but the buyers were frightened, and even that offer was soon withdrawn. The market was very much demoralized, and no one could tell what was to come; shipments were lower than United, and Upper road was quoted nominally at $3 35@3 55; market closed weak. Sales 13,000 barrels shipment, 15,000 barrels Upper, and 18,000 barrels United.

NEW YORK, October 10, closing 9.—Petroleum—Refiners hold firmly to recent quoted prices, but there is absence of important demand for the moment. Crude in bulk is quoted at 14c; do in shipping order 18c; refined 26c; cases 30@31c: naptha 14c for city. At Baltimore refined rules at 26c: at Philadelphia refined 26c.

PHILADELPHIA, October 10.—Market quiet and no disposition to sell; standard white 25½@26c; crude 12c; cases 30c.

TITUSVILLE, October 10.—Upper road entirely neglected; there is no market.

OIL CITY, October 10.—Market firm at $3 43¾ bid for United with considerable activity; immediate shipment nothing doing.

ROUSEVILLE, October 10.—Market weak and demoralized; held at $3 40.

TIDIOUTE, October 10.—Market unsettled with no sales; impossible to quote.

PARKERS, October 10.—United $3 43¾ bid; $3 50 asked; no inquiry for shipment; market entirely speculative.

[By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, October 10.—Petroleum dull and heavy; crude 13½c; refined 26c; cases 30c; naptha 14c.

LONDON, October 10.—Refined petroleum 17¼d.

IRON MARKET.

CINCINNATI.

[By Mathew, Addy & Co.]

October 10.—The feeling that prices of pig iron have reached their lowest limit has encouraged many buyers to purchase more freely in anticipation of their actual wants.

The increased demand has been freely met, however, and no upward tendency in prices has yet appeared. Stocks are ample, except in hanging rock brands of charcoal iron, which are very scarce and decidedly firm in price.

THE packet Carrie Brooks, Captain Darlington, left for Zanesville on time.

THE Salt Valley, Captain DeWolf, leaves Ironton this evening for this city.

ONLY seventeen inches of water reported between Pine Bluff and Little Rock.

AT St. Louis the R. W. Dugan is expected to load for Red river direct this week.

THE United States snagboat E. A. Woodruff is operating at points below Pomeroy.

THE United States lighthouse tender Lily will leave Cincinnati for this port to-day.

THE steamer Fanchon, Captain Sweeney, leaves Cincinnati, for this port on Thursday.

STEAMBOAT business is resumed between New Orleans and Shreveport, quarantine being removed.

JO ANDERSON, in his sixtieth year, is carpenter on the Fannie Lewis. He has boated about thirty-five years.

THE packets on the Monongahela leave promptly at 8 A. M. and 4 P. M. for Brownsville and Geneva.

THERE are favorable symptoms of peace being made among the steamers running in the White river trade.

THE Fannie Dugan, which had been laid up for repainting and repairs, left Portsmouth for Pomeroy Saturday.

THE packet Granite State, Captain Kerr, will arrive on Thursday and take her departure for Portsmouth on time.

RATES from St. Louis to New Orleans are forty cents for flour and twenty cents per cwt. The Fannie Tatum is expected to load independent this week.

THE towboat Dick Fulton No. 3 arrived at New Orleans on Tuesday morning with her tow all right, and left the same evening with a tow of empty barges.

DR. BURLEIGH was serenaded at Yankton, Monday night, in honor of his nomination as the Republican candidate for a seat in the Legislature from Yankton county.

THE wrecking boat T. F. Eckert is off the Mound City ways and has gone to Cairo, waiting for some unfortunate steamboat to sink or blow up that she can wreck her.

A FAVORABLE change has taken place in the condition of Captain J. G. Andrews, who was so badly hurt a week since by the tripping of a stage on his steamer, the Osceola Belle.

CINCINNATI.—The rates of freight to New Orleans are firm at 25c for bacon, 30c for butter and cheese, 40c for potatoes and apples, 50c on half barrels of beer, 60c on pork and 75c on whisky.

AT New Orleans, Wednesday night, a man named Isaac Franklin, a deckhand on the steamboat Sherlock, was accidentally shot and slightly wounded at the corner of Canal and Walls street.

THE far-famed steamer John L. Rhoads, Captain J. M. Vandergrift, is receiving for St. Louis and way points, and will leave on Saturday positively. Passengers and shippers can rely on this.

CAPTAIN R. C. ADAMS has sold his interest in the Dick Johnson to Captain Matt Williams of the Jim Fisk. Bob goes to farming. John Adams commands. Dick Williams presides at the desk in the office for the present.

THE favorite weekly packet Emma Graham, Captain Williamson, takes her departure for Cincinnati and way points. This boat is a large favorite with passengers and deservedly so. Our clever friend Thornburg will be found in the office.

THE St. Louis Republican of Sunday says: Captains Dan Brady and Isaac Vanhook left last evening for the East, going by Cleveland and the Lake Shore. They will visit the Centennial, Pittsburgh, Allegheny City, &c., and return to this city in two weeks.

THE St. Louis Republican says: Mr. I. M. Mason, general freight agent of the K. N. Line, was nominated by the Republican Convention on Thursday, for the desirable office of County Marshal. Captain Mason stands high in mercantile circles with everybody.

THERE were reshipped from the mouth of White river by steamers during the last season, 40,000 bales of cotton. Nearly all of it went to New Orleans, and about two-thirds of it came out of the Arkansas. It is believed that as much more will be reshipped from the same point during the ensuing season.

AN exchange says: Beacon lights of the Western and Southern rivers have proven to be of great service to commerce and navigation. River pilots all agree that no more useful institution has ever been introduced. The system is gradually improving, and the officers in charge of it are using every endeavor to render it as popular as it is beneficial.

COTTON rates from Memphis South have broken, and $1 per bale is the fixed rate at present. The City of Alton took nearly 500 bales at that rate a few days since. The promised pool arrangement is off, and irregular rates will be apt to rule throughout the season. The Carondelet is out of the pool, and doubtless all the others will be as soon as they get under way.

HARD ON THE ANGELS.—The Evansville Journal says: A reliable gentleman informs us that a lady with her little daughter met Will S. Hays, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, on Fourth avenue, in Louisville, when the child exclaimed: "Is that an angel, mamma?" "Why, no, my dear, that is Will Hays," says the mother. "What is them things on the sides of his head?" asked the child. "Those are his ears," replied the mother. "Why, I thought they were wings," said the little innocent.

THE New Orleans Times of Friday says: Another old steamboat landmark has gone in the person of Nicholas Ant. Delerno, better known by the name of Old Napoleon. He was a native of Italy, but has resided in the Crescent City for the last forty-five years. He was aged sixty-two years. Old Napoleon was one of our old steamboatmen, having owned bars on many of our finest packets, and more particularly on Red and Ouachita rivers. He died on Wednesday morning.

THE Evansville Courier says: The accident on the Yazoo Valley, while lying at Humphrey's wharfboat, came near being of a serious nature. A small lot of furniture stowed in the boiler deck room gave way, the heavy lot of furniture falling upon several of the men engaged in stowing freight, injuring a colored rouster slightly and dislocating the arm of a colored rouster named Pat Miles. Drs. Bray and Harper were called in to set the limb. He was sent to the Marine Hospital.

THE Sioux City Journal of October 3d says: The steamers Benton, Key West and E. H. Durfee are expected down from above about Thursday. The Yellowstone, Captain John Massie, was expected to leave Yankton yesterday afternoon for up-river with the Indian Commissioners. Captain Grant Marsh backed the Far West out of Yankton Sunday for Fort Rice with a load of Government goods. Captain John Todd will have the new steamboat ways at Yankton completed by tomorrow evening or Thursday.

THE Memphis Appeal says: Captain Kallaher, the Wharfmaster, has issued the following notice to steamboatmen governing the allowance of space at the levee: "The following space will be allowed to each boat, according to her under-deck capacity, measuring from the jack-staff aft and up to the levee as far as the bluff, excepting room for a dray to pass: Boats from 100 to 200 tons, 50 feet; 200 to 400 tons, 60 feet; 400 to 700 tons, 70 feet; 700 to 900 tons, 80 feet; 1,000 and more tons, 90 feet. These rules are made in accordance with section 13, City Ordinances, and by complying with them all boats landing at the port of Memphis will be equally benefited."

IN speaking of the towboat Ark, that grounded her tow, the Memphis Avalanche says: From persons who arrived on the boats yesterday the news was imparted that the towboat Ark was busy at work trying to relieve her stranded tow at the Devil's Elbow. The towboat was down again, from Devil's Elbow, yesterday, and went back with a couple of lighters. She has hauled off three of her stranded coal barges, and but two remained on the bar yesterday. These, it is thought, will be pulled off after being lightened. The fast falling waters renders the work of relieving the stuck boats much more difficult than it would otherwise be.

Captain W. B. Miller, of the Thomson Dean, is in St. Louis, and leaves here on the same day as the Grand Republic, while the Carondelet, Captain Hicks, is announced to leave here in company with the James Howard. This shows up as if there was going to be war in the Lower river trade.

"STAR" BRAND!

Live Goose Feathers!

(TRADE MARK PATENTED.)

I take this opportunity of bringing to your favorable notice my "STAR" brand of No. 1 FEATHERS.

After handling feathers for some time with conscientious care, and obtaining some reputation for the quality of my goods, I found, to protect myself from the imitations of less scrupulous dealers, that it was necessary to adopt some brand to distinguish them from all others packed in this city. I took for this brand a STAR and have branded it on the sacks containing my goods for some years past.

The consuming public, who are the best judges of true merit and of their own wants, have passed the verdict that the Star Brand Feathers are the best in the market. In this vicinity the wholesale and retail dealers have been compelled to procure them for their customers.

Wherever introduced, my brand, from the quality of the goods and convenience and neatness of packages, have secured a permanent and growing trade. The feathers are purchased with great care, a special effort being made to procure ripe live goose feathers. In sorting the feathers the coarse ones are carefully culled out, as well as all odors that may be objectionable. They are then packed in new muslin sacks holding from one pound up to fifty.

The experience of myself and predecessors—extending over a period of forty years—enables me to meet the wants of the trade in a most satisfactory manner.

Having constantly on hand a large stock of Feathers, I am prepared to fill orders promptly.

Respectfully Yours,

F. G. CRAIGHEAD.

Fire in the First Ward.

About half-past seven o'clock last evening fire was discovered in the cellar of Ramsey & Renton's machine shop, corner of Water and Ferry streets. The fire was so small that it was deemed unnecessary to call out the steam engines, and a "still alarm" was given to the Eagle Company, who hastened to the spot with their hose, and succeeded in speedily extinguishing the blaze. The only damage done was to the first floor, about eight feet square of which was burned.

Obituary.

We regret to learn of the sudden death of the wife of Hardy Ward, Esq., which occurred at four o'clock yesterday morning, at the family residence, No. 209 Wylie avenue. The deceased was apparently in good health on Monday, but in the afternoon, while attending to her household duties, she was prostrated by a stroke of apoplexy from which she never recovered. Mrs. Ward was a most estimable lady, and her sudden death produced a feeling of deepest sorrow in this community, where she was well known and greatly beloved for her eminent virtues.

Fatally Shot.

An accident occurred at Irwin's Station Monday afternoon, resulting in the death of a widow named Haney, residing in the borough. It seems that the lady discovered a revolver lying on a table in her house, and picked it up for the purpose of making an examination. While she was examining the weapon it was accidently discharged, and the contents of one of the chambers lodged in her body, causing almost instantaneous death. Her daughter was in the room at the time, and witnessed the shocking occurrence. The deceased leaves three daughters to mourn her death.

A Numerous Thief.

Thomas Williams, a colored man with about half a dozen different aliases, is in a peck of trouble. He is now in jail awaiting sentence on a charge of swindling an other colored man, a neighbor of his, out of several hundred dollars. Williams was convicted last week and would have been sentenced on Saturday but that his case was laid over for special reasons. Yesterday morning, Benjamin Taylor, the same prosecutor as in the former case, went before Alderman Kreuter and made another information against Williams, charging him with the larceny of five hundred and fifty dollars. This is an additional sum, which the prosecutor has discovered he has lost and claims to have proof that Williams stole it. A commitment was lodged against the accused.

CITY SCHOOLS.

Routine Business—The Centennial Excursion.

The regular monthly meeting of the Centennial Committee was held last evening, President Nobbs in the chair.

The usual reports of the Superintendent, High School Principal and the several committees were presented and received.

The High School Committee reported recommending that no more non-residents be received as pupils in the High School.

They also asked the approval of the appointment by the committee of Miss Medea Mary Kemp as assistant in the normal department.

The report was received and the recommendations acted upon.

It was stated that the crowded condition of the school building demanded the restriction asked for. The recommendation to refuse the admission to non-residents was adopted without dissent.

The appointment of Miss Kemp was also approved.

The Centennial Committee reported, making the following recommendations relative to the school children's excursion:

That the local boards employ substitutes to take the place of such teachers as desire to go with the excursion.

That the high school be closed during the time.

That pupils of the Normal Department be requested to act as substitutes for such teachers as desire them.

The first two recommendations were promptly voted down and the last adopted. This puts the excursion business in something of a mix.

The special committee appointed in relation to the proposed division of Colfax district recommended the division, the Eastern part of the district to be known as Sterrett.

The report was accepted and the division agreed upon.

Mr. M. M. Schneider, member of the Knox district, presented the registration, which was accepted.

The question of changing the hour of meeting to 2:30 P. M., on which action was postponed at the last meeting, was acted upon, and the motion was defeated.

The establishment filled a long train, and an army of tramps occupied a place on the cars. THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

Splendid Meeting at Etna.

On Monday evening a grand Republican rally was held at Etna, one of the most enthusiastic of the campaign. The citizens had been lavish in decorating and illuminating their residences, and a cordial reception was given to the multitude of visitors attracted by the occasion. The Sharpsburg and Millvale and Eighteenth ward marching clubs turned out in large numbers, making a fine appearance, their marching being much commended. The W. J. Matthews glee club, of the Second ward, Pittsburgh, was present and rendered some choice campaign songs, which were well received.

The meeting was organized by calling J. A. McQuaide, Esq., to the chair. He was assisted by the following officers:

Vice Presidents—R. H. Jones, Henry Ochse, George A. Chalfant, Henry Seitz, J. L. Forsaith, Adam Brown, W. H. Hieber, E. P. Thomas, John Herron, Henry Bortyler, Chas. Frayer, John Weissert, J. D. Shaffer, James Shedden, Daniel Dempsey, Benj. Crowther, W. J. Purvis, M. D., W. B. Kroesen, M. D., T. D. Evans.

Secretaries—C. D. Ochse, S. C. Young, R T. Graham, J. L. Elsesser.

Mr. McQuaide, after making a short speech, proceeded to introduce the speakers of the evening.

John A. Fox, Esq., was the first speaker, and in an effective manner presented the issues of the campaign, pleasantly interspersing his remarks with appropriate anecdotes, and his address was well received.

Hon. John C. Newmyer, Senatorial candidate in this district, made a powerful speech, showing up the reform record of the Democracy in the last Legislature in a most unenviable light. His speech was attentively listened to and greatly appreciated.

Colonel Thomas M. Bayne, candidate for Congress in the Twenty-third district, was loudly called for, and made a most eloquent address, which was frequently interrupted by applause. Colonel Bayne held the audience over an hour, and was closely listened to throughout his entire speech. He devoted his time principally to the tariff question, upon which he is sound.

John S. Robb, Esq., the last speaker, owing to the lateness of the hour, did not make an extended speech, but contented himself with briefly summing up the important features of the campaign, and appealing to the citizens to do their whole duty.

The meeting was a complete success, winding up with three rousing cheers for Hayes, Wheeler and Bayne.

MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

The County Republican Executive Committee met yesterday afternoon, Mr. Fetterman in the chair.

The Chairman reported as to the receipt of news from Ohio and Indiana, and announced that he had received a telegram from Senator Blaine, who would arrive from Cleveland at 4:42 this afternoon.

It was also announced that a grand Republican demonstration would be held at Oakdale on next Thursday week, at which Senator Logan, of Illinois, and Mr. Poorman, of Ohio, would speak.

Captain Isaac Cline offered a resolution for a grand torchlight procession through the east end of the South Side on the Saturday of the 28th inst.

He stated that, owing to the long route of Saturday evening last, the procession was marched to "cover" the upper district, as was intended, and much disappointment was occasioned thereby.

After some discussion, on motion of Mr. Riddell, the resolution was referred to the meeting of the Captains of the marching clubs soon to be assembled.

GRAND CENTRAL BATTALION.

At a meeting of the Grand Central Battalion, of Allegheny, held at headquarters in the Diamond, last evening, it was resolved to call the respective companies for the following gentlemen:

Pioneer Corps—Gus. Painter.
Company A—J. A. Chambers.
Company B—A. M. Byers.
Company C—R. C. Gray.
Company D—W. D. Bois.

Battalions will meet on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock sharp. for a short parade. All members are requested to be on hand early.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

The Thirteenth Ward Hayes, Wheeler and Errett Invincibles were presented last evening by the ladies of the ward with a handsome banner and two beautiful flags. The banner was the gift of Mrs. B. K. Wachter. Joseph M. Gazzam made the presentation speech, in his usual felicitous manner, and it was responded to in appropriate terms by Captain H. C. Campbell. The club then marched to the residence of Mr. W. S. Smith, where the organization was presented with a very fine flag on behalf of Mrs. W. S. Smith, by Thomas S. Mitchell, Esq. The club was also presented with another flag by Mrs. Mat. Lawton. The club turned out one hundred and twenty-five members.

REPUBLICAN RALLY AT LEECHBURG, ARMSTRONG COUNTY.

On Saturday evening the Republicans of Leechburg, Armstrong county, held one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in that part of the country. It was called to order by T. D. Elwood, who placed in nomination the following officers who were elected: President, Alex. Gordon, Esq.; Vice Presidents, Capt. H. Truby, J. P. Kerr, John T. Duff, H. K. McKallip, John Davis, Thomas Rogers, Sr., John Truby, Abraham Klingensmith; Secretaries, J. A. McKallip, J. R. Long, H. H. Wray, S. Bow, Sr., A. Craig. The President introduced Dr. Coates, of Chester, who put the audience in the proper mode to hear a very patriotic and eloquent address from Mr. Mayo, of Cameron county, who has won fame for his power on the stump.

There was a grand torchlight procession previous to the meeting, Chief Marshal, John Hill. Assistants, A. J. Elliott, John Truby. The head of the column was formed at the Republican headquarters by the Citizen Battery, with eight white horses, all mounted, with uniform, followed by the Leechburg brass band, Freeport Hayes and Wheeler Club, Pleasant Valley Drum Corps, Leechburg Hayes and Wheeler Harry White Club, Leechburg Drum Corps, Westmoreland Club, followed by mounted horsemen and wagons from Allegheny township, followed by the Taylor Run Drum Corps, making the grandest display ever made in this place, which will tell well for a Republican majority in November.

THE ALLEGHENY DEMONSTRATION.

Mr. John Megraw, Chief Marshal of the procession in Allegheny, Saturday evening, has announced a short route in order that clubs from a distance may not be deterred from taking part in the demonstration. Marshal Megraw takes the ground that it is easier for the people to go a few squares from their homes to see the procession than it is for the procession to march several miles unnecessarily. The route is up Federal to Church, to Chestnut, to Ohio, to Cedar avenue, round the parks by way of North, Irwin and Ridge avenues, railroad bridge, and countermarch back to Ohio, to Federal, to suspension bridge, and dismiss.

NOTES.

This evening a beautiful and costly flag will be presented on behalf of the Misses Annie Marshall, Hattie Scott and Maggie Satler, to the Ninth ward Hayes, Wheeler and Errett Club, at the residence of Miss Marshall, on Twelfth street.

A Hayes, Wheeler and Errett Marching Club was organized last night at Williamsburg and Beck's run. Eighty names were subscribed, and the following officers elected: Robert Kennedy, Captain; Thomas S. Lowe, first Lieutenant; James Doyle, Second Lieutenant.

The Third ward Hayes, Wheeler and Errett Club, Captain Kennedy, will meet at seven o'clock this evening to attend the flag demonstration on Twelfth street.

THE "HILL" RIOT.

Partial Hearing in the Case—Defendants Enter Bail for Court.

A partial hearing was given by the Mayor yesterday in the case of P. McGee against certain members of the Old Grand Central and Eighth ward Republicans clubs, charged with riot on the 16th ult. at the corner of Webster avenue and Washington street. Mr. D. B. Bruce appeared for the prosecution, and Messrs. Fulton, Haymaker, Lambie and Robb for the defense. Only ten of the defendants responded.

The first witness called on the part of the prosecution was Patrick McGee, who testified as follows: Live on the corner of Washington and Webster streets; a Democratic meeting was held at my house on the night of the alleged riot; the Fifth Ward Club passed through without disturbance; two other clubs passed through without trouble; about nine o'clock a colored club, the Grand Central, Captain Hatfield, came up; I went to the door and saw a colored man firing a pistol; to the best of my knowledge there were one hundred pistols fired; the windows in the house, on the left side, were broken with stones and torches; I went into my house, on the opposite side, and obtained two pistols; was caught in the room and detained; I found the glasses, counters, pipes, etc., were destroyed in the house on the opposite side; I identified John Hatfield, James Bell and Sam Lindsay; have known Hatfield for a number of years; he rallied with his club but I did not see him breaking any windows or firing any pistols; Lindsay was at the house when the riot was going on; would not swear that any of these parties were engaged in doing any violence.

Cross examined by Mr. Robb—Saw Mr. Lowe in the crowd, but did not see him do anything; the Democrats all left when the fighting commenced; didn't see any of the defendants do anything but they were all there.

To Mr. Lambie—Don't know that stones were thrown into the rear of the procession; didn't see any thrown; heard that stones were thrown about fifty feet from my house; I am not responsible for the whole street; in my opinion it was a "put up job on my house;" my pistols were taken from me in my own house by Jim Heisel; he is a Republican but a friend of mine.

After he had given his testimony, a consultation was held among the counsel for the defense, the result of which was that Mr. Fulton stated to the Mayor that the defense had agreed to waive a hearing and enter bail for the December term of court. This appeared to be generally satisfactory, and the defendants were each held in the sum of $500 for their appearance.

POLITICS RED HOT.

Scenes and Sights in the City Last Evening—Democratic Roorbacks—Two Outrages on Republican Assemblages—The Feeling Very Much Mixed Among the Democrats—Depending on Republican Sources for News.

Fifth avenue last evening, from Grant to Wood street, was a living, surging mass of humanity. From supper time until nearly three o'clock this morning, there stood or meandered about without scarcely knowing whither to turn, without any apparently definite object, the noisiest, and with two notable exceptions, the best humored political gathering ever witnessed in the city. The various newspaper offices were the special centers of attraction, but Republican headquarters was the chief focus to which all eyes were turned. Until half-past one o'clock the crowd was a solid one; after that hour the thoroughfare was somewhat passable, but it was not until four o'clock that the streets were really cleared of the excited and enthusiastic mass.

The scenes around Republican headquarters, where the largest assemblage gathered, were inspiring. Hon. T. J. Bigham presided, and as the dispatches arrived detailing the sweeping Republican victories, announced their contents to the throng in his grand inimitable style.

Speeches were made by Thos. M. Bayne, Esq., Gen. A. L. Pearson, H. A. Collier, Esq., and others, which were vociferously applauded.

From Republican headquarters there was displayed a running fire of carricatures and mottoes by means of a camera obscura, which kept the spectators in excellent humor.

At Democratic headquarters there were very slight facilities for obtaining information, and about midnight a rumor was started that the telegraph wires had been cut. This fell upon the faithful like a wet blanket.

An impromptu Democratic mob was organized, which passed through the Republican meeting on Fifth avenue, at headquarters twice, with the evident design of provoking a riot, but the good sense of the Republicans restrained them from taking notice of the malicious hooting of the roughs, who formed the chief portion of the column.

About half past two o'clock this morning, as a Republican procession was passing down Fifth avenue, a stone was thrown from a crowd of Democratic loafers standing near Adams Express Company. A person described as a tall, drunken gentleman with a cane drew a revolver, and as he was firing, his arm was knocked up, and he was promptly knocked down. The police arrested the well known colored barber Sam Dawson, on suspicion of having fired the shot. As officer Farnan was proceeding with the arresting force toward the lock-up, he was struck on the head with a boulder, evidently thrown at the prisoner, but escaped with slight injury.

While the Republicans behaved themselves with excellent humor, it is evident the Democrats were spoiling for a fight, and as it was, all we will say now is that they deserved the severest reprobation for their outrageous behavior.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Supreme Court—Chief Justice Agnew and Justices Sharswood, Mercur, Gordon, Paxson and Woodward.

John E. Kuhn, on motion of James G. Kuhn, Esq., was qualified and admitted to practice in this court.

The argument of Darlington vs. United States was resumed by Hamilton for defendant in error, and concluded by D. T. Watson for plaintiff in error.

THE COUNTY TREASURERSHIP CASE.

The case of the Commonwealth ex rel. W. G. Murray vs. Kilgore, was argued by Messrs. Shiras and Acheson for Murray, and by Messrs. Brown and Hamilton for Kilgore.

This case, it will be recollected, has reference to the election of W. G. Murray as County Treasurer, in the fall of 1875, and bears also upon his eligibility to the office, under an act of Assembly making a County Commissioner ineligible to the office of County Treasurer within one year from the time he served as Commissioner. The case was advanced on the list by order of court and heard at an early day during this term because of its public importance, Coroner McCallin being a candidate for the same office at the election in November.

Mr. Murray was elected in the fall of 1875, his term of office to commence on the 1st Monday of January, 1876, but the County Treasurer, then in office, refused to give him possession in January, because his own term of office had not expired, and would not until the 1st of March. In March, he refused him again, on the ground that he was entitled to hold until his successor be duly elected and qualified. A writ of quo warranto was taken out in the Common Pleas No. 1, at the suggestion of the Attorney General, and upon a hearing the case was decided in favor of Mr. Kilgore, on the ground that Mr. Murray was ineligible to the office.

Mr. Kilgore commenced his second term of office in March, 1874. He was elected for two years under the act of 1841. The act of 1867 made the commencement of his term in March, changing it from January, the time fixed by the act of 1841. The new Constitution changed the election from October to November, added one year to the term of County Treasurer, and fixed the beginning of the term again in January instead of March. The Constitution says that the Treasurer shall take his seat in the January next succeeding his election, and as Mr. Murray could not take it in January last, it is claimed he has no right to it at all. While serving out his first term, which ended in March, 1874, Mr. Kilgore, it is argued, was "in office at the time of the adoption of this constitution," and while serving out his second, he was in office "at the first election under it," and was, therefore, entitled to hold not only during the term of his office which expired in March, 1873, but until his successor be duly elected and qualified, which will not be until January, 1877, when the Treasurer elected this fall will take his seat. In case the election of Mr. Murray was legal the argument touching his eligibility is urged.

On the other hand it is urged that the Constitution made the election in November and the commencement of the term in January, and if Mr. Murray, by taking his seat deprives Mr. Kilgore of two months of his term, he has as much right to do so as Mr. Kilgore has to add seven or eight months to it. This provision was made to prevent vacancies and not to benefit incumbents by extending their terms. It is further claimed that Mr. Kilgore has no right to attack the eligibility of Mr. Murray, but must be content to show his own right against the Commonwealth, the Attorney General being the relator and not Mr. Murray. The incumbent is called upon to defend himself, and he cannot do so by attacking Mr. Murray. It is also agreed that the place to determine Mr. Murray's eligibility is the Quarter Session Court, which the act of Assembly prescribes, where a petition of electors must first be present. The Common Pleas, in passing upon the case, had no right to consider the question of his eligibility. It is also claimed, by the counsel for Mr. Murray, that he was eligible, the Constitution repealing the act which made him ineligible.

Gilmore's Concerts.

Should we have room in our columns we would like to give to Mr. P. S. Gilmore, the criticism that his magnificent performance deserve. We can only say to-day that his band has no equal in the world, that Miss Norton's rendering of "Robert toi que j'alme" was admirable and well deserved the encore that she gave, and also that Mr. Arbuckle pleased as much and more his friends than he ever did before. To-night's programme is a superb one and we intend to give it the criticism that it deserves.

An Oil Fire.

A small tank, containing seven hundred and fifty barrels of oil, at the refinery of McElroy & Wilson, near the Sharpsburg bridge, caught fire last evening, and was entirely consumed, involving a loss of $2,500, which is fully covered by insurance.

IRON.

A Talk with David Thomas, the First Man to Successfully Apply Anthracite in the Manufacture of Iron—The Vast Works Founded by Him—The Iron Trade in the Olden and Modern Times—What He Thinks of the Prospects of Business—His Views on Finances and the Democrats—Sound Advice from an Octogenarian and a Millionaire.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.
CATASAQUA, PA., October 9, 1876.

Twenty miles northwest of Easton, on the left bank of the Lehigh river, is situated the manufacturing village of Catasaqua. Here stands the extensive works of the Crane Iron Company, and here lives David Thomas, their founder, now in his eighty-second year. Though but little known outside of his own sphere, he has the honor of having been the first person to successfully apply anthracite coal to the manufacture of iron. His life has already more than run the ordinary span of man, having reached four score and three years, and yet he has the appearance of reaching the other side of another decade of human existence.

The correspondent of the COMMERCIAL in passing halted for a few hours in his journey to call upon this venerable gentleman. In conversation this founder of the anthracite iron industry thus narrated the history of his eventful life, coupling his remarks with some comments upon the industrial interests of the day.

"I was born in the South of Wales and have followed the iron business for over sixty years. In 1817, after working at other places, I went to Yniscedwyn as superintendent of a furnace owned by George Crane, a London capitalist. We then made iron from coke and turned out fifteen tons a week, and in a few years raised it to seventy tons. Around us lay a basin of anthracite coal used for nothing but domestic purposes and making steam. The iron ore also lay near by and it suggested itself that the two might be used together in the manufacture of iron. I made many experiments but without success. About 1835 Neilson, manager of the Glasgow Gas Works, discovered the theory of the hot blast before it passed into the furnace. He applied it successfully to the Clyde Works. Neilson used bituminous coal and coke. In 1836, with Mr. Crane's consent, I went to work, built ovens for heating the blast, and on February 5, 1837, successfully applied the use of anthracite to the making of iron. The news of this success was printed in the London Mining Journal and through that source reached the press of the United States. Josiah White and Erskine Hazard, of Philadelphia, since 1825, had been engaged in the mining of anthracite coal in the then recently opened Legign region. They had a small furnace at Mauch Chunk and had made numerous experiments without success. When the news of the success of the new process reached them they saw the advantage to accrue from it in the development of their mines. They were also directors in the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company. Mr. Hazard came to Wales and after considerable hesitation agreed to go to the United States and build an anthracite furnace on the Lehigh. Mrs. Thomas had been urging me for fifteen years to go to America for the benefit of the children. I at once ordered the necessary blowing machinery, a castings for the hot blast made in Wales. The cylinders were too large for the batches. These measured five feet in diameter and six feet stroke. In 1839 there was not a foundry in the United States that could bore them. The Southwark works at Philadelphia were enlarged for the purpose. I arrived in New York in June, 1839, and in August of that year the first furnace in the Lehigh Valley was commenced at Catasauqua and called the Crane Iron Company.

We made the first run of iron out of our furnace, using anthracite coal, on July 4, 1840. This proved a great success. After the tariff of 1842 we blew in a second furnace; in 1846 the third; in 1849 the fourth and fifth, and 1858 the sixth furnace, all of the Crane Iron Company.

In 1854 the Thomas Iron Company was formed and built two furnaces at Hockendaqua, and two more in 1862–63. In 1868 we bought the two Lockridge furnaces at Alburtis, on the East Penn Railroad. This makes up our whole establishment. When we began in 1840 we shipped our iron by canal to Philadelphia and New York. It then took three days to the former and a week to the latter. In 1855 the Lehigh Valley reached us, but freights on iron were too high, so we used the canal until the North Pennsylvania and Central Railroad of New Jersey were built.

In those days coal cost $1 65 to $1 75 a ton at Mauch Chunk and the freight and tolls to Catasauqua, twenty-six miles 53½ cents a ton. Ore was then $1 50 to $1 75 a ton. We then made iron at $13 00 and $14 00 a ton. The price of coal at Mauch Chunk now is $2 50 a ton and freight and tolls to this place 44 cents, in all $294 a ton. Before the breaking of the combination it was $275 and freight 60 cents a ton. Iron now costs $20 00 a ton to manufacture and will not bring much more than that. Then there were three now there are fifty furnaces in this valley. Labor was then ninety-five to seventy-five cents a day; common labor is now seventy five to ninety cents, skilled labor is not quite as cheap as before the war.

There is one thing I can say and that is we have struck bottom at last and are now beginning to build up. While the coal combination lasted every industry was paralyzed. It was one industry propping up production at the expense of all others, but that came to a natural end. There is but one infallible law of trade and is that the law of supply and demand. Coal has now come down to the level of all other industries. We can now all pull together and you will see a sure beginning of prosperity. I do not blame the coal companies entirely for the combination. It grew out of the miner's unions and Mollie Maguires. If it had not been for the power of the unions the combination would never have existed. The strikes compelled a compromise with the men at a higher figure and as a consequence the companies had to get more for their coal. Mr. Gowen deserves all the credit and he can never get too much for what he has done to break up this reign of terror.

It is only necessary that every man found guilty should be given the extreme penalty of the law. But for the promptness of Mr. Gowen millions and millions of property would have wasted away for want of the ability on the part of its rightful owners or representatives to own it.

You ask me on the money question. I believe in contraction, and I think the common sense of nine-tenths of the people point in the same direction. The abundance of money was our ruin. After the war we should have curtailed the volume of the currency at once, and returned to specie. I believe paper money was a necessary war measure; but the war over, it should have been gathered in. There is nothing like specie; nothing is worth a dollar unless it cost a dollar to make it. I do not advocate entirely dispensing with paper, but a dollar in paper should bring a dollar in gold upon presentation. I am opposed to fictitious values. We are now beginning over again and we should begin aright, not with a falsehood in the vital principle of a revival of business. I do not give much attention to politics, but I do think that so many elections do more damage to business than we imagine.

A President ought to be elected for eight or ten years. I do not believe that the success of the Democrats would be a good thing for the country, because there is an element there which is subversive of the best interest of this country. Their alliance with free trade and irredeemable currency, not speaking of the vindicative feeling of the Southern leaders, is enough to condemn them in the mind of every patriotic man, and especially if he have any interest at stake. The Northern Democrats deserve to be censured for being in league with such men. You ask me whether I have visited my native country. I was in Wales in 1861 and 1869. They had not made as much progress there as we had here in iron. They do not make as much progress in anything, but we are too fast.

MEADVILLE, PA.

A Perceptible Improvement in the Various Branches of Industry in Northwestern Pennsylvania—The Political Situation.

[Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.]
MEADVILLE, PA, September 28, 1876.

Coming back to this little city, situated as it is so pleasantly among the hills, after an absence of four years, we find the hand of time has not been idle in dealing with her population and in creating changes and improvements, such as might be expected among the same number of people dwelling in any section of our State or country. We miss the forms and faces of some we had then become familiar with, and while walking along the quiet paths leading among the monuments and headstones of their beautiful inclosure set apart for the dead, observe a few of the names carved on granite and marble, reminding us once more what must finally be the destiny of all who are now gliding along over this ocean of earthly existence.

Among the improvements we notice a new church edifice erected by the First Presbyterian Society on the site of the old structure. Also a beautiful and imposing building on the corner of Chestnut and Water streets, by one of their opulent citizens, and known as Delameter block. On the first floor are several spacious stores; the second story is occupied by offices and a first-class hotel, which affords the traveler and sojourner most excellent accommodation, and is becoming highly popular with a class familiar to us as commercial travelers. With the exception of some of the leading houses in Pittsburgh, and the Reed at Erie, the Commercial Hotel of this city, cannot be surpassed by any West of this State. The improvement above mentioned is an ornament to the town, and the projector of it deserves the thanks of the inhabitants of this county for what he has done for the convenience of the public and to beautify one of its largest centers of population.

We observe a number of fine private residences have been added to the many which attracted our attention during a former visit. Perhaps there are but few places in Western Pennsylvania where are to be found more culture and refinement among a population of the same number than here. It has long been known as an educational center, and on an elevated position overlooking the town is the institution so long familiar to the public—Allegheny College—and a theological school of the Unitarian denomination, both of which, I am informed, are now having more than the usual number of students. If young men find the avenues leading to fortune overcrowded at this time, they can avail themselves of other opportunities which unfold before them and point out paths which, if they are diligent in pursuing, will result in the accumulation or acquisition of that which may be of more substantial advantage to them—education and knowledge.

This county, in her agricultural resources stands among the first, if not foremost, of any West of the Alleghenies. The strangers to this section, as they pass along, cannot but have their attention attracted by the highly cultivated and productive farms, made so by the untiring and honest hand of industry, and, I might say, to be envied are those tillers of the earth who were so fortunate as to find their homes on a soil so productive, making their lot profitable as well as pleasant.

I am told that in the production of butter—but more particularly cheese—Crawford county leads any other throughout the State, and supplies some of our leading markets with a large amount and the best quality of beef.

Her annual exhibition of agricultural products, held two weeks ago, certainly was not much of an affair, and far from being creditable to a farming community like this. But I am informed that the one to be held at Conneautville, commencing on the 4th and ending on the 6th of October, is likely to attract thousands on account of the reputation they have so long enjoyed for furnishing the finest displays of any fairs in this or the adjacent counties.

As a manufacturing community, this county has gained but little reputation. I find one establishment now quite active in turning out boilers and engines, another for hayloaders, an article of somewhat recent invention, and for which they are not only receiving many American but some European orders. Two or three flour mills are in operation here, furnishing a market for the wheat grown in this section. It is satisfactory to be able to discover a more active tone in so many departments of manufacturing industry, not only in so many sections of our own State, but throughout the whole country. The demand for so many of our fabricated articles which the necessities of the people must soon create, will result in the merchant ordering of the manufacturer more of his wares, causing him to put his machinery in motion again, thereby giving employment to the many thousands now idle, resulting in the money now locked up in the bank safes coming forth from its long resting place, and being paid out to the producer of cotton, wool, coal, iron and other of our many abundant natural productions, thus restoring general prosperity in every State of the Union.

It is perfectly apparent to-day that the announcement of the election of the Republican ticket in November will, without delay, restore confidence in both men and values, for the simple fact that it will settle the question at once concerning what the financial policy of the Government is to be for the next four years, which at this time is something the merchant, manufacturer and capitalist would give more to be assured of than anything else which concerns them. They do not fear the financial policy of the party in power, as it has been so long familiar to them, and they have prospered under it for so great a length of time.

No greater misfortune could happen to the business interests of this country than the election of the Democratic nominees, resulting, as it would inevitably, in a complete change in our financial policy, prostrating confidence, and thus assist in the prolongation of the monetary crisis, the end of which would be some months if not years into the future, should we be called upon to wait for a new policy to be adopted and promulgated by an incoming administration. If the laborers, mechanics and all classes interested in the various avocations, believe by aiding the Democratic party into a national position is to better their condition, financially, they will be made aware when it is too late to remedy their shortsightedness that no more stupendous folly ever found a lodgment in their minds.

Happily for the loyal people of this now united country, we trust no such calamity awaits them as the advent of the Democratic party into power; for their policy would be no other than destructive to our whole system of finance, retarding the growth and prosperity of most departments of industry, and at the same time seeking, as they would, to undermine the very foundations on which has been established so many great principles, the cost of which in blood and treasure is almost incalculable.

From information imparted to us from undoubted sources, it is even now safe to announce that this county is to give a good and acceptable account to the Republican cause in November. To be sure, the tidal wave—or the effects of it—was felt here in the autumn of 1874, and resulted in giving to the Democracy a Representative in Congress. But that great tide in our political affairs has long since receded, and the spirit of apathy which had taken hold on the minds of many has no longer an existence with them, and it would seem the whole Liberal element, almost to a man, have decided to gather around the old standard of Republicanism and keep step to its music once more.

Colonel Thompson, the Republican candidate for Congress, is not particularly active among his constituents, having no fear of defeat. The present incumbent Mr. Sheakley, is busy as a bee, throughout the district, but it now seems quite safe to declare the bread he is casting upon the political water will not be found in his possession after the 7th of November.

One of the most interesting and exciting meetings which has been held in this county took place at Titusville on Wesnesday night last.

A. B. Richmond, Esq., of this city, brother of Ex-Congressman Richmond, and perhaps one of the ablest practitioners at the bar in Western Pennsylvania, as well as a gentleman of scientific attainments, which has given him considerably celebrity, had been announced to speak. It was evident the reputation of Mr. Richmond had preceeded him, for the large hall was packed to overflowing. In discussing the vital questions now at issue, he did not fail to draw largely on his resources of logic and sarcasm, in dealing with Democracy and its record, which brought forth a response from some of the leaders among the opposition; but they were soon silenced, having, as they discovered, attacked a fortress altogether too heavily mounted and guarded for caliber so light as that they aimed against it. Two hours and a half the able and eloquent speaker stood before his audience, dealing out hard blows against the citadel behind which modern Democracy has sought to defend itself. When we withdrew, most who were present concluded what we came to perform was more than accomplised. During the balance of this campaign Mr. Richmond should be heard in every city and township throughout this country.

Many of the citizens of this place visited Warren, Ohio, on Saturday last to listen to those distinguished champions of our great cause, Blaine and Garfield.

MORGAN,

A Democratic Reformer Calls "Time" on a Republican Candidate.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:
BUTLER, PA., October 9, 1876.

An unprincipled correspondent, under the signature of G. L. R., had published in the Pittsburgh Post of last week a scurillous and false communication reflecting on the Republican party in general and Colonel J. M. Thompson, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, in particular. The correspondent, whose real name is George L. Rankin, is a recent addition to Butler county, and of dubious origin and unknown ancestry He is, moreover, an adventurer ready to earn an honest living by some other means than by the sweat of his brow.

Who is he, or what he is, our people generally know but little and care less; and those who seem to known him are by no means the source through which reliable information would be looked for.

He may be an honest and enthusiastic Democrat, one whose principles are so firmly fixed that his soul loathes the principles of the Republican party. To such a man—high-toned, honorable and gracious—the corruption of the times must be a fountain of perpetual grief. He secretly weeps over the degeneracy of the times, and longs and prays for the restorion and prestige of his loved party: yet, with his holy love for his party, deep and pure though it doubtless must be, he is willing, nevertheless, to sacrifice all his political principles, and sell himself, body, soul and breeches, for money.

I present herewith a letter from this honest correspondent, dated June 14, 1876, addressed to Colonel Thompson, which, more fully than I can, presents him in his true colors, and stamps him an honest, zealous but conservative Democrat and reformer, and as such I commend him to the consideration of his party friends, not doubting that until reform shall have exhausted the demand for men of his calibre and integrity, he will not long be without employment.

COPY OF LETTER.

GREENVILLE, PA, June 14, 1876.

John M. Thompson, Butler, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: I am a Democrat in principles, but since my arrival in this place have been interesting myself in Republican politics. You know the situation here as well as I do; three candidates and plenty of chances to make friends for you if the proper means are employed. All you need to be elected over Sheakly is the nomination (confidential). I have an arrangement by which I think, the Valley Argus, of this place, can be secured. I am a personal friend of Mr. Morgan, the present editor, and with him I have had some private conversation. Rumor has said that Peltiss has control of the paper, but I have reason not to believe the statement.

It is probable, however, that Pettiss can control the Journal, for he and the editor are both from Crawford. I am anxious to enter upon journalism, and if you can see the advantage of the proposition I am about to make, I shall willingly serve your interests in the present campaign. I ask you to confer with J. M. Roth as to my honor and ability, without stating to him the object in view.

For $5,000 I can put the Journal on good footing. I don't ask this amount as a gift, but if I sacrifice my Democratic principles in your behalf, I would expect you to give me the money for quite a time without interest and subject to easy payments. I have nothing to invest but my ability, however little that may be, and that I need run no risk of working some two or three years for nothing, I ask these conditions: Five years without interest and the principal in annual $800 payments, at a low rate. With the foreman of the office I have made arrangements, providing the paper is secured. Hoping to be able to make arrangements, I am, very truly yours,

G. L. RANKIN.

P. S.—I think if the money can be had. I could get control of the paper immediately, which would be of great advantage to you.

Yours, G. L. RANKIN.

If you fully favor the enterprize telegraph me "all right." If you will give me terms different from those set forth but equally as good, telegraph, "I favor it."

In either case on Monday next at one P. M., I shall endeavor to have the paper in my hand, and shall need the money to seal the contract.

What is done must be done quickly. Don't you come up; if you wish anything further send me some men with whom terms can be made.

G. L. R.

Mr. Rankin don't deny the authorship of the above letter, but he and his Democratic friends claim that it was merely a small matter of business.
